McCarthy Labels Army's Report 'Blackmail'; Quick Probe Asked

TAKE BACK MY DRAFT NOTICE. Eight-year-old James Francis Coffey Jr. hands a letter from draft board to his postman father for return to the senders, at Malden, Mass. Jimmy was notified to tell the board why he didn't register for draft within 30 days after he was "discharged from the service" last month. Coffey Sr. didn't deliver the notice, as he has a different route. The letter wasn't intended for James Sr. either. He has never been in the service.

Murrow Hit In McCarthy Radio Attack

Commentator Accused Of Connections With Moscow School in '35

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has accused commentator Edward R. Murrow of having been connected with a Moscow school described as revolutionary, and Adlai Stevenson of dealing in untruths.

Murrow said he actually was an adviser in an international education experiment the Russians cancelled in 1935 before any school sessions were held.

Fires Broadside

The accusations came in the first installment of McCarthy's reply to recent criticism. He has said his real reply will be made a week from today. But last night he fired some preliminary broadsides at Murrow, who devoted his CBS television show Tuesday to a critical review of McCarthy, and Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee in 1952, who spoke against "McCarthyism" before a meeting of Democrats in Miami Beach Saturday.

McCarthy spoke last night on a question and answer program with Fulton Lewis Jr. on the Mutual Radio Network.

Saying that Murrow, "week after week, feels that he must smear McCarthy," McCarthy suggested, "maybe Mr. Murrow is worried about the exposure of some of his friends."

'Quoting Paper'

McCarthy, saying he was quoting from a copy of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph for Feb. 18, 1935, read a listing of Edward R. Murrow, assistant director, Institute of International Education, as a member of the National Advisory Council of the Moscow University summer session. He quoted the newspaper as saying Moscow University taught "the violent overthrow of the entire traditional social order."

Murrow, in New York, termed the broadcast statements "McCarthy's latest reckless handling of the truth."

In a statement, Murrow said that he had been assistant director of the Institute of International Education, which he described as an organization arranging interchange of students and professors, and in that capacity was a member of an advisory

COUNT 'EM AGAIN—I KEEP GETTING 7. These three kittens, owned by Mrs. Frank Johnson of Miami, were born with seven toes on each paw—making a total of 84 toes. Here they take a recount trying to whittle the number to 5 for each paw, like normal cats. Their mother was a Persian but their father—a champ in alley brawls—also has the added armament.

Senator Says He's Tied Up Until Monday

Four Members of His Committee Demand Speedy Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) cried "blackmail" today at an Army report he and his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, applied pressure for special treatment of a drafted aide while from other senators there were demands for a quick investigation.

Four members of McCarthy's own permanent Senate investigations subcommittee—one a Republican—asked for an early meeting of the group to consider the report.

Committee To Decide

And the Senate Republican leadership indicated a disposition—at least for the moment—to leave the matter in the subcommittee's hands.

McCarthy held a news conference at which he flung his countercharge of "blackmail" and said he did not see how he could have a committee meeting today. He said he was leaving at 5 p.m. for Manitowoc, Wis., where he has a speaking engagement.

Back Monday

He said he will be back in Washington Monday.

As to his contention of "Blackmail," McCarthy said John G. Adams, the Army's legal adviser, had let him know the Army was preparing a report which would embarrass the subcommittee and which would be released unless the subcommittee halted its investigation of the Army.

McCarthy said he was no intention of firing Cohn—"If I can keep him with the committee I will."

Cohn, himself, sitting pale faced beside the senator, denounced the accusations listed in the report as "untrue."

McCarthy said he was making public documents from his file which, he said, would throw a different light on the whole episode.

Knowland Calls for Action

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California told newsmen he would think the "committee itself" would go into the matter fully and develop the facts.

"I think both the Senate and the country would expect them to do that," he said.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said Cohn should be removed if what he called the "shocking charges" as to the chief counsel were true. The report said Cohn voiced threats that Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens would be "through" and the Army "wrecked" if Schine were sent overseas.

Potter said he wanted a meeting today to go into "all the facts."

Peer Grimes (top), 32-year-old Harvard graduate, smuggled his two young daughters of his German-born wife, Imgard (below), out of East Germany away from their grandfather, an American-hating fanatical Red, and the family is reported heading for the United States. Differ on Method

U. S., Mexico Split Over Halting Reds

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The good neighbors of the Rio Grande—Mexico and the United States—lined up in friendly but earnest opposition today in the 10th Inter-American Conference debate on the Red peril.

Both agreed that communism menaces the peace and welfare of the Western Hemisphere. They differed sharply on the best way of dealing with it.

Seeks Action by All 21

The United States wants adoption of its draft resolution pledging the 21 American republics to take joint action against any attempt by international communism to take over one of their governments.

Mexico wants the warning addressed not to "international communism," which it labels as an "ideology," but to non-American agents of foreign powers who try to intervene in the internal affairs of American republics.

The Red debate was expected to end in adoption of the U.S. resolution tomorrow. Ten of the Latin-American nations already have voiced support for it, assuring majority pasage.

Key Issue Involved

The debate is being followed with intense interest by delegates, since objections to the U.S. resolution center on the principle of nonintervention in the internal affairs of American republics, a principle to which all the Latin-American nations adhere without reservation.

Mexico contends that the U.S. proposal conceivably could commit the American states to intervene against a sister republic which adopted a Communist government of its own volition.

Mexico's Roberto Cordova insisted each nation has the inalienable right to adopt any kind of government it desires, "even a Communist government," provided it is done through the free will of its people. Only when a foreign power seeks to impose its form of government on the Western Hemisphere are the American republics justified in taking action, he said.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles replied his resolution was a "for-

2 Paratroopers Killed, 80 Hurt In Mass Jump

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP) — Two members of the 82nd Airborne Division were killed in a mass jump of 9,000 paratroopers here yesterday. Thirty were hospitalized and about 50 other men received minor injuries.

The Army exercise—Long Thrust—claimed the lives of Pfc. Joseph J. Hamel, 20 Claremont, N. H., and Pvt. Junior L. Cooper, 23, Whiteville, Tenn.

The Army listed one man in critical condition. He was identified as Romeo Paradise, Nashua, N.H.

Other hospitalized paratroopers apparently were not seriously injured.

The Army declined details of the fatal accidents pending completion of an investigation.

The casualties marred the Army's largest peacetime paratrooper and equipment drop since World War II. The booted, combat-ready troopers cascaded from about 145 C119s (Flying Boxcars) onto four drop zones in the Ft. Bragg-Camp Mackall area.

After landing, the men secured a theoretical air head and prepared for simulated combat.

Some failed to land in proper drop zones; others landed in trees.

Fight Continues On Eisenhower Farm Program

No Presidential Veto Expected if Congress Extends Price Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today he doesn't think the President "would have the political courage to veto" a congressional decision to extend present farm price supports.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said he would recommend such a veto to President Eisenhower.

The President and his farm Cabinet member have recommended a program of shifting to a flexible system of price supports, ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Would Replace 90 Per Cent

It would replace the present fixed 90 per cent support program on basic crops which expires at the end of this year.

Under fire for two days by the House Agriculture Committee for his proposals, Benson was summoned back for further questioning.

Rep. August H. Andresen (R-Minn) announced in advance that he was drafting a plan to get rid of the dairy products now bulging government warehouses.

Benson disclosed yesterday he will announce before April 1—possibly next Monday—the administration program for getting rid of mountainous dairy surpluses, including butter stocks which reached a total of 311 million pounds this week.

Would Lower Butter

There were indications this program would divert butter into regular trade channels at prices to the advantage of the housewife.

"I should think they ought to find a disposal program," Andresen commented. "They've been working on it a long time."

Ellender, ranking Democrat on the Senate committee, has moved for a two-year extension of the 90 per cent supports in the Senate without waiting a decision by the Agriculture Committee.

Scandal Rocks Scelba Cabinet; Member Quits

ROME (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba's shaky young government rocked today at the resignation of National Police Chief Tommaso Pavone after court testimony linking him with Italy's biggest postwar scandal—the mysterious death of high society party girl Wilma Montesi.

Resigning last night, Pavone in a statement denied "indignantly and in the most categorical manner" allegations implying that he had shielded—and received gifts from—one of the men prominent in the case.

He said he would take legal action to clear his name.

Sen. Williams Ties Debt Limit Hike to Tax Cut

Says Any Reductions Must Be Paid for Out Of Borrowed Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Williams (R-Del) said today Congress members who back major cuts in taxes this year should be willing to support an equivalent increase in the national debt limit.

"We should make it very clear to the people," he said in an interview, "that any tax cut we are giving them must be paid for by borrowed money."

Points to Deficit

That is true, he said, because the Eisenhower administration has forecast a deficit of $3,200,000,000 for the current financial year ending June 30 and $2,900,000,000 for the next year.

Williams came out against the 912 million dollars worth of excise cuts included in a bill passed overwhelmingly by the House Wednesday. The administration is fighting the cuts.

Each of the cuts might be justified on its own merits, he said, but no further general tax reduction should be voted until the budget is balanced.

The Delaware senator gave his views in advance of a closed meeting of the Senate Finance Committee on which he serves, to consider the House excise bill.

Substantial Cuts

The bill would cut to 10 per cent a wide variety of excises which now have rates ranging from 25 to 11 per cent. They include levies on transportation tickets, telephone bills, jewelry, furs, cosmetics, luggage, admissions to movies and other, entertainments, electric bulbs, and photographic equipment.

At the same time, the measure would extend for a year beyond April 1 rates on major excises including autos, gasoline, liquor and cigarettes voted after the Korean War began.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) said his group would go over the measure with its experts and consider whether to hold any hearings. No committee action is likely before the middle of next week.

Sen. George (D-Ga), senior Democrat on the Finance Committee, told Williams last night in a flurry of Senate debate on taxes that he did not believe the Delaware senator could stop passage of the excise bill by the Senate.

Williams conceded, "I'm afraid I can't."

Loss of $3,000 Reported From Blaze at Forest

FOREST — Damage was estimated at $3,000 in a fire which swept over the roof of the John Marsh residence in Jackson Township, Wyandot County, some four miles southeast of here early this morning.

Firemen from the Forest Volunteer Fire Department battled the blaze for two and one-half hours before bringing it under control.

The wood shingled roof on the seven-room home was entirely burned and fire reached down to the upstairs ceiling line. The downstairs of the home was badly damaged by water.

Fire Chief Morris Burk reported the fire appeared to have started around the flue of the chimney on the east side of the house. A strong wind from the east whipped the flames right across the roof.

The fire was discovered by Elmer Horn, a neighbor of the Marshes. Horn smelled the smoke and immediatedly notified the Marshes who had just finished breakfast and were preparing to begin their chores.

The farm is owned by Mrs. Delbert Miller.

Secret Service Agent Disputes Wable's Claims

Alleged Counterfeiting Activities Unknown to Federal Investigator

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A U.S. Secret Service agent has disputed the claim of John Wesley Wable that he passed large sums of counterfeit money for Jim Parks, a shadowy figure who Wable says killed two sleeping truck drivers on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

John L. Ketti, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh office of the Secret Service, testified as a rebuttal witness for the state yesterday at Wable's murder trial.

Earlier, the defense rested after presenting testimony of Wable and 11 other witnesses.

Distributed Over $4,000

Wable testified he distributed some $4,000 to $5,000 in fake $5, $10, $20 and $50 bills last June and July. He said he got the counterfeit money from Parks.

Ketti told the jury that from June 1 to Nov. 30, 1953, a total of $1,626 in bogus money came to his attention. He said all but two of the bills were in denominations of $10 and $20.

The Secret Service agent said there has been no general circulation of counterfeit $5 and $50 bills in the Pittsburgh district for the past three years.

Wable is on trial charged with fatally shooting Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va., July 28. He also is accused of slaying Lester B. Woodward, 39, of Duncannon, Pa., another truck driver, three days earlier.

Both men were shot in the head as they slept in the cabs of their vehicles on the turnpike.

Testifies on Gun

Wable, 24-year-old native of Ohiopyle, Pa., testified he gave his gun to Parks July 23 and didn't get it back until Aug. 1. A state police ballistics experts said the weapon was used in both slayings.

The state contends Parks is a figment of Wable's imagination.

Wable's mother, Mrs. Louise Wable, and his sister, Ruby, 16, told the jury Wable was home the night of July 24-25 when Woodward was killed, corroborating earlier testimony of his father.

Permanent Immunity?

New Evidence Supports Salk Polio Serum Claims

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The children who get the Salk polio vaccine this spring very possibly will become permanently immune to polio, Dr. Jonas E. Salk says.

He reported new evidence last night for this unexpected and heartening turn in research.

He finds that two small shots of the vaccine, with a third "booster" shot later, can even outdo mother nature in creating tremendous amounts of antibodies to combat polio.

Antibodies are disease-fighting soldiers created naturally when germs invade you, or created by plan by giving a vaccine containing dead or altered germs.

Gives Answer

Dr. Salk, 39-year-old University of Pittsburgh bacteriologist, gave his answers on every score to a few scientists who have suggested delaying the mass vaccine tests on half a million or more children.

These trials, scheduled to begin within a few weeks, must be made to see if the vaccine actually protects against epidemics of polio, he said. The key question is whether antibodies in the blood are the real defense, as all evidence so far indicates.

Dr. Salk declared the vaccine is safe, potent, and can be plentiful.

It has been given to nearly 5,000 children in the Pittsburgh area—including Dr. Salk's own youngsters—and not a single one has shown any fever, or reactions in the arm from the inoculations, he said.

Convinced of Value

"I would not go ahead with the trials if I had any doubts about the safety of the vaccine," he declared.

The vaccine is made of dead polio virus, killed by formaldehyde and triple-tested for safety.

Some scientists have questioned whether the vaccine could possibly damage human kidneys. The virus for the vaccine is grown upon monkey kidney tissues. The vaccine fluid therefore can contain small amounts of protein from the monkey kidneys.

Dr. Salk, speaking to the New Orleans Graduate Medical Assembly, said his tests show no reasons to suspect that this kidney material could react upon human kidneys.

Newport, Ky., Chief of Police Fights Verdict

COVINGTON, Ky (AP) — George Gugel, Newport police chief, was convicted in U.S. District Court here yesterday on a charge of interfering with the civil rights of a newspaper photographer but his attorney, announcing an appeal, said "We'll go all the way to Washington on this one."

Judge MacSwinford fined Gugel $1,000 but said he would not impose a jail sentence since the offense was only a misdemeanor.

A jury of 10 men and 2 women deliberated only 25 minutes before convicting the 59-year-old police chief. He was accused of having destroyed film of pictures taken by George Bailey, a photographer for the Louisville Courier-Journal during a raid on the Glenn Schmidt Playtorium in Newport last July.

Bailey was arrested on a trespassing charge after he took a picture of Pete Schmidt, operator of the Playtorium. The charge later was dismissed in Newport police court.

Judge Swinford, upholding the right of Bailey to be present at the raid to make photographs, ruled in his instructions to the jury that:

"It is my opinion that when a place is being searched under a lawful search warrant, that a newspaperman or a photographer has the right to accompany the search to seek news and information."

Official Sheriff Uniform Adopted by State Group

Uniforms worn by Marion County Sheriff Glenn Obenour and his deputies since last spring are tailored very closely to specificaions announced today by the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association.

These specifications were adopted upon the recommendation of the association's committee on standard uniforms in an effort to eventually standardize uniforms throughout the state.

STARK COUNTY Sheriff Harry Grossglaus of Canton, president of the association, and a former Marion man, cautioned that "it will take some time to replace uniforms" now being used.

From top to bottom the new uniform will consist of an "Australian style" stetson in gunmetal shade, a black serge tropical worsted shirt with matching tie, gray gabardine trousers, and black shoes.

A short finger-tip length oxford gray reefer-style topcoat will be worn in cold weather.

Gold buttons will trim the uniform and a small gold-plated badge with the seal of Ohio will be worn. Shoulder patches of inverted black "rain drop" style will feature simple gold lettering.

Welfare Head Blasts Rhodes

Robison Hits Auditor's Accusations on GIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Welfare Director Henry J. Robison today declared the state auditor, who is investigating conditions at the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware, has shown no evidence that he has "any unusual talent" in the juvenile field.

Auditor James A. Rhodes recently lashed at conditions at the girls' school saying some received inhumane treatment when placed in what he described as "the hole."

Rhodes' criticism stirred up a battle of words between him and the state welfare department. Tuesday night four girls who escaped from the school turned part of the Madison County Jail into a shambles after their capture by State Highway Patrolmen.

In the latest exchange of statements, Judge Robison said:

"There is no evidence that State Auditor James A. Rhodes has any unusual talent or ability in the juvenile field. It was not demonstrated while he was mayor of Columbus.

"The program at the Columbus Workhouse while he was mayor did not indicate that he had any great interests in the subject of rehabilitation."

Rhodes claims girls sent to the Delaware institution are not rehabilitated.

Students Rebel At South Point For Third Day

Angered at School Board's Decision Not To Rehire 2 Teachers

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — A large band of student "rebels" continued their strike at nearby South Point High School today. Others returned to classes after the walkout Wednesday protesting the school board's decision not to rehire two teachers.

Principal Herndon Wilks said about "75 or 100" students were gathered across the street from the school and refused to enter. He could give no estimate of how many returned to classes.

About 500 are enrolled at the school.

The strikers have adopted a "wait and see" attitude after winning a partial victory at a village meeting last night. The majority of adults attending the meeting supported the students and helped obtain a written statement from three board members who promised a special board meeting Monday night. Two board members refused to sign.

The students want the board meeting to discuss the dropping of Athletic Coach Jack Dick and English teacher John Ayers, a better lunch program, a better attitude from their principal and a promise of no punishment for the strike.

Strikers still out today gathered around a large bonfire across from the school, stayed off school property, and chanted slogans. They paraded occasionally in orderly fashion.

Earlier they burned in effigy their principal.

Board Clerk Rex Miller today refused to let a newsman see the minutes of the board meeting when it was decided to release the teachers.

Miller and Ennis Austin are the two board members who refused to agree to the Monday meeting.

The Ironton Tribune, in a front page editor's note to the strike story, called it "mob rule" and chided the students for using an "undemocratic approach' to solving a dispute.

Two of the board members were present at the meeting last night. They are Max Davidson and Jack Mann, who both said they opposed dropping the two teachers.

After the meeting, Davidson and Mann got L. M. Butcher, president of the board, to call the special meeting.

Principal Wilks, in his first year at South Point after teaching and coaching at Pomeroy, could give no explanation for the board's action in not renewing the contracts. Both are "capable teachers," he said.

One theory, voiced at the meeting by the Rev. Merrill Floyd, is that Dick was released because he wouldn't put the son of one of the board members on the first string of the basketball team.

Service Club Cited for Home Project

E. E. BANNING (right), president of the Marion County Child Welfare Board, is shown presenting a plaque to Dan Roecker, president of 20-30 International Service Club, in recognition of the group's service in furnishing and redecorating the recreation room for the older boys at the Children's Home. The recognition service was conducted at 7:30 p.m. Thursday before members of the club and its auxiliary, 20-30 Annes. Later Mr. and Mrs. Gene White, superintendent and matron of the home, conducted the group on a tour of the home.

Members of the club estimated that they worked a total of 626 man-hours in furnishing and redecorating the recreational room.

The project consisted of installing acoustic tile ceiling, asphalt tile floor, wagon-wheel ceiling light, table tennis table and drapes, and painting the walls and woodwork.

Drapes for the windows of the room were made by the 20-30 Annes, auxiliary headed by Mrs. Carl Willmeth.

Funds for the project were raised by the club by a turkey sale and a mistletoe sale. The room will be maintained by the group as a standing project.

In addition to the recreational room project, 20-30 members also shared in the cost of installing the fence in front of the home with money raised from the shoe-shine project recently conducted in downtown Marion.

Driver Suffers Head Cuts in Local Accident

Car Swerves and Hits Utility Pole Head-On After the Brakes Lock

One driver was injured in one of six traffic accidents on city streets and county highways reported today by Marion police and the state highway patrol.

Paul Collins, 24, of 210 Reed Ave. suffered some deep cuts on his face and head in an accident at W. Church and Orchard Sts. at 1:57 a.m. today. He told police he was driving west on W. Church St. and the left front wheel locked when he applied the brakes. The car turned sharply across the street and struck a utility pole head-on, police reported.

Windshield Broken

In the impact, Collins' head hit the windshield and broke the glass. Taken to Marion City Hospital, Collins was treated for his injuries and released.

No one was injured in a collision of an automobile with an Erie Dayton division locomotive at the Dayton division crossing on W. Center St. at 11:07 p.m. Thursday. John Wand Jr., 22, of 152 Barnhart St., driver of the car, said he did not see the southbound train approaching as he drove across the tracks. The car fender was damaged.

Three cars were involved in an accident at Walnut St. and Delaware Ave. at 9:43 a.m. Thursday. Cars driven by Mrs. Iva M. Cruber of 698 E. Center St. and Mrs. Stewart Mills of 445 Bellefontaine Ave. collided at the intersection. The impact forced Mrs. Mills' car which was eastbound on W. Walnut into the front of another car which was stopped headed west on E. Walnut St. driven by Alston E. Morrison, 47, of 663 Virginia Ave.

Car, Truck Collide

A car driven by Henry M. Hardy, 61, of near Cardington and a truck driven by Ronald W. Arndt, 28, of 259 E. Walnut St. collided in front of 528 E. Church St. at 3:32 p.m. Thursday.

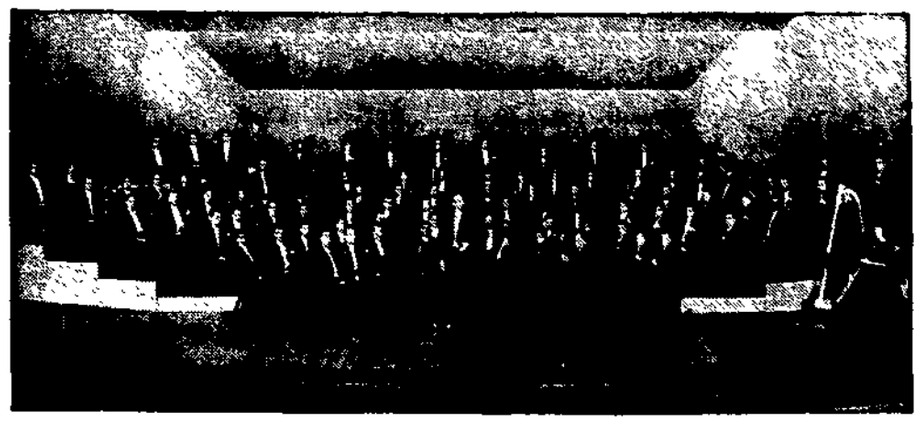
Another automobile-truck collision at E. Center and Vine Sts. at 12:01 p.m. Thursday involved a truck driven by Roy Thomas, 39, of Indianapolis and a car driven by Thomas G. Miller, 38, of 1126 Cheney Ave.

Bus Backs Into Auto

One minor traffic mishap was reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

At 8:35 a.m. yesterday at Waldo school, a school bus driven by Charles E. McMahon, 35, of near Waldo backed into a car driven by Bridget Nicolosi of 659 Mt. Vernon Ave. Patrolmen reported minor damage to the bus and moderate damage to the Nicolosi car.

Rochester Orchestra To Give Concert



THE ROCHESTER Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Erich Leinsdorf, will be one of the programs featured in the 1954-55 concert series of the Marion Community Concert Association. The personnel includes teachers at the Eastman School of Music. At home, the orchestra has the full support of the community and is known in the east through its concerts in more than 100 different cities.

With only hours remaining in the 1954-55 Community Concert membership campaign, those interested in hearing and seeing outstanding talent in Marion next season are asked to take out membership in the association before the deadline Saturday at 5 p.m.

"We are asking everyone who can, to enroll in order that the high caliber of talent which has been featured in the past years may be maintained," Mrs. Timothy Wyant, new membership chairman, said today.

Many persons who have been interested throughout the years have voiced their appreciation of the programs and expressed the hope the concerts would continue.

When interview regarding the concerts whcih were inaugurated 10 years ago, Homer Huffman, supervisor of instrumental music at Harding High School said today: "It is remarkable to realize that any individual may, for the expenditure of only a few dollars, see and hear that which cost several thousand dollars to bring to a community. Furthermore, community concert membership tickets entitle the holders to attend concerts in many nearby cities where these programs are sponsored. Community Concert memberships are real bargains in the best of entertainment."

Youth Delinquency On Increase, Ruzzo Tells PTA Group

Juvenile Court Judge Edward J. Ruzzo told the Silver Street PTA Tuesday night that juvenile delinquency is definitely on the increase and is expected to be doubled by the year 1960.

He said his court has disposed of over 300 cases in the last year and that it and the children's institutions are very much overloaded.

Boys outnumber girls in committing offenses, Judge Ruzzo said. As cause for this, he cited the fact that girls are more closely supervised than boys. Spring and fall usually produce the highest delinquency rate, although July of last year saw the highest number of cases in court with 38. Some of the offenses are stealing, breaking and entering, armed robbery, truancy and traffic violations. He said there is an upturn in traffic misdemeanors, because young people have access to cars more than ever before.

In explaining court procedures to the PTA members, Judge Ruzzo said an attempt is made to dispose of the cases in the most intelligent way and in the method best suited to the child. First offenders are placed on probation and usually make a strong effort to do better.

Society does not owe us a living, the Judge said. It owes us only an opportunity. America is a nation of families and it is the responsibility of each adult to try to preserve the family. He cited the home as the place where delinquency begins, and said parents are not doing the job they should in character building and attitude formation.

Judge Ruzzo praised PTA groups for their past work and challenged them to keep on in the hope that their labors will help children become better citizens.

In the business meeting preceding Judge Ruzzo's talk, the following officers were elected: Mrs. John Dunnan, president; Mrs. Harold Christian, first vice-president; Miss Agnes Lutz, second vice-president; Mrs. James Richardson, secretary; Carl Castle, treasurer; Mrs. Clarence Pryor, council representative; and Mrs. Carl Castle, council alternate.

Piano music was furnished by Miss Jane Tumbleson of Harding High School.

Cohn

bers—Sens. McClellan of Arkansas, Symington of Missouri and Jackson of Washington—got out a joint statement saying "we assume" McCarthy will call an early meeting.

Constitute Majority

Potter and the three Democrats constitute a majority of the seven-member group.

There was no immediate reaction from McCarthy himself.

McClellan was asked if he agreed with Potter that Cohn should be fired if the Army report is correct.

"I believe in hearing both sides when charges are made," McClellan replied. "If there is a defense or an explanation of what the report reveals, then it should be made to this subcommittee."

Jackson said, "I concur with that statement."

McClellan then added, "I think this report raises an issue that should engage the attention of the committee to the exclusion of other matters now programmed."

Schine, 26, is a former committee consultant who was drafted into the Army. He is the son of a wealthy New York state theater chain operator.

Potter, meeting newsmen in his office, said he wrote to McCarthy late yesterday urging an immediate closed session of the subcommittee to go into the situation.

Meeting Promised

Potter said he was assured an executive session of the subcommittee would be held, but he added McCarthy set no date. Potter said he hoped it could be held today.

"The Army's chronological listing of events concerning the alleged intercession in behalf of Pvt. G. David Schine by the chief counsel of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, Mr. Cohn, carries most shocking charges," Potter said in a statement.

The Army report mentioned conversations Francis P. Carr, the subcommittee's chief of staff, had with Army officials concerning Schine.

Potter said he thought the subcommittee also should explore that angle to determine whether Carr should be removed.

Potter said he thought the investigations subcommittee should handle the inquiry to determine whether the statements in the Army report are correct.

Up to Committee

He said it was his understanding "there is information which contradicts the Army report"—or, at least, he added, he understands McCarthy and Cohn "have facts they would like to present."

Asked if he felt Cohn should be suspended in the meantime, Potter said he thought the subcommittee should ascertain the facts quickly—possibly even today—and then could decide what should be done.

The 34-page report, made public last night by Senate sources, was shot through with references to Cohn calling top Army officials with demands that Schine, who was drafted last November, be given preferential treatment.

Quotes Threat by Cohn

It quoted Cohn as threatening that Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens would be "through" and the Army wrecked if Schine were sent overseas after he completed his basic training. Schine now is at Camp Gordon, Ga. Both Cohn and Schine are 26.

The report said that before Schine was inducted, both McCarthy and Cohn urged the Army to give Schine a direct commission. However, the report continued, Schine was rejected as unqualified by the chief of transportation, the provost marshal general and the commanding general of the 1st Army.

Although McCarthy was quoted as telling officials repeatedly to treat Schine as it would any other private, he was also pictured as trying to have the Army assign him to the New York area. The senator was quoted as suggesting that Schine be assigned to check West Point textbooks for subversive material.

Covers 6-Month Period

The Army report, a sort of diary, covered the period from mid-July of last year to Feb. 16, 1954, thus coming up to the eve of a fierce conflict between McCarthy and Stevens over another issue.

This was McCarthy's questioning of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker at a one-man closed hearing Feb. 18. Stevens said Zwicker was humiliated and abused. In the ensuing uproar President Eisenhower denounced "disregard for fair play" in congressional probes.

Before the Army report on the Schine matter was made available by Senate sources last night, Republican spokesmen, asking not to be quoted, had said they hoped to induce McCarthy to ease Cohn out before Democratic members of the investigations subcommittee could make an issue of the disclosures.

McCarthy, however, said Cohn was "pretty much indispensable" to the subcommittee. And he said, before the contents of the report became available, that he had suggested in vain to Secretary of Defense Wilson and Asst. Secretary Fred A. Seaton that they "get both sides" and not take only the version of John G. Adams, counsel to the Army, on the Schine case.

May Release Data

The senator said he plans to make public all material on the matter in his subcommittee's files.

Schine is a wealthy New Yorker, who served the subcommittee without pay.

Cohn and Schine became controversial figures last spring when McCarthy sent them both to Europe to investigate U. S. information and propaganda agencies abroad.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) accused them of acting like "Keystone Kops" on the trip. He engaged McCarthy in a hot Senate debate as to whether they had hurt U. S. prestige abroad with what he termed "their antics."

The Army report said that last Dec. 17, at a talk between McCarthy, Cohn and Adams, "Mr. Cohn was vituperative in his language" while declaring he had a commitment that Schine be assigned to New York City. It said McCarthy "remained silent."

Then the party continued uptown in a taxi, it continued, and McCarthy "again suggested the possibility that the secretary should put Pvt. Schine on duty at headquarters, 1st Army, with an assignment to examine the textbooks at West Point . . . as to whether they contained anything of a subversive nature."

The Army report quoted Cohn on several occasions as predicting trouble for the Army unless Schine received special treatment.

And it said that a meeting Jan. 22 in McCarthy's apartment, the senator several times said he did not see why the Army could not give Schine some assignment in New York and forget about the whole matter.

eign policy declaration directed against those in non-American lands who operate the subversive apparatus of international communism . . . and (who) demonstrably are putting that apparatus into use against this hemisphere.

"We would warn them that we are aware of their design."

Guatemala's Red-tinged government has won a lot of sympathy from Latin-American delegates by contending the United States is using communism as a pretext for future intervention in Guatemalan internal affairs.

Dulles sought to clear up that point yesterday, saying, "Our admonitions are not addressed to any one of our republics or to the Western Hemisphere."

In attempt to further calm the fears of the Latin Americans, Dulles suggested the addition of this paragraph to the U.S. draft resolution:

"This declaration of foreign policy made by the American republics in relation to dangers originated outside this hemisphere is designed to protect and not to impair the inalienable right of each American state freely to choose its own form of government and economic system and to live its own social and cultural life."

Commissioners Request Ditch Extension Plans

Plans for an extension of the proposed Lee and Thompson ditch were requested of the Marion County engineer's office following a meeting Thursday of interested landowners in the commissioners' office in the Courthouse.

The engineer's office was given until May 13 to submit his reports on the ditch extension. The ditch was petitioned for by A. J. Loudenslager on April 1, 1952, and requests its construction, reconstruction, straightening, deepening, widening and tiling.

The ditch is located in Salt Rock and Grand Townships.

Community School Unit Organizes at Mt. Gilead

MOUNT GILEAD — The annual re-organization meeting of the Community School Association was held at Mount Gilead Trinity Methodist Church Thursday afternoon and night. Forest Porter of Sparta was re-named president of the group.

Other officers serving the organization, set up to promote and further interest of rural communities in Ohio, are: Wayne Shaffer of Bryan in Williams County, Mrs. John Roberts and Mrs. Marion Layman of Swanton, Wood County.

More than 100 members from 20 counties heard two authorities on rural living.

T. A. GANTZ, advisor to the group, presented Dr. Arthur Morgan of Yellow Springs, president emeritus of Antioch College and noted authority on community living, at the afternoon session, and Dr. William McKinley Robinson, authority on rural life and education at Western Michigan College.

Stated aim of the organization is to preserve the rural school, since it is an integral part of the community. More attention should be given to the relationship of the school to the community and its people in school consolidation programs, its members believe, claiming that in too many instances the effect of living is not checked before pulling the school and community apart in the guise of efficiency which undermines and perils rural community life. The experts said that we are not sensing the place of the school in the community.

"Where you have good schools, you have a good community," said Dr. Robinson.

"Unless you have people stand up for freedom and local self-government, you have a democratic wash-out," commented Dr. Morgan. "It must be supported by fundamental human character. Ordinary folks can get ordinary things done."

Conference topics held during the afternoon included: Rural School Finance; New State Controls; Is the Rural Community Essential to America? Is the Christian Religion an Essential Factor? Centralized Authority Versus Local Controls; How Can Local Organizations Pull Together To Solve Problems Affecting the Whole Community?

CONDUCTORS OF THE individual conferences were: Dr. Lewis Harris and Dr. Howard Wakefield, Ohio State University education experts who are conducting an Ohio school development study; William Manahan of the House of Representatives education committee and chairman of the Ohio State School Survey Commission; Elinor Switzer of Yellow Springs, executive secretary of the Community Service Inc. at Yellow Springs; C. H. Vannorsdall, Williams County School Superintendent; Charles Harkness, Wood County superintendent; Paul Furniss, Johnsville school superintendent; H. Ray Wagner, Sparta school superintendent; Rev. Harry Lambert, Chesterville Methodist Church pastor; and Dr. Morgan.

Italy

It was a major headache for Scelba, who won final parliamentary confirmation yesterday for his month-old coalition government by only a 17-vote majority in the Chamber of Deputies. During the parliamentary debate, the Communists accused the regime and Pavone in particular of trying to hush up the Montesi scandal.

Pavone, whose job corresponded to that of the FBI head of the United States, said he was resigning to have the "liberty necessary to protect my person."

Heads Investigation

Scelba appointed Minister Without Portfolio Raffaele de Caro to head an investigation into the whole tangled case, in which many high persons have been named, including Piero Piccioni, son of Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni.

The nude body of the Montesi girl was found on the beach at Ostia, Rome's nearby Lido, last April. The police report said there was no reason to believe she had died of anything other than accidental drowning.

The police have stuck to that in spite of charges published recently in the one-man magazine Attualita (Actuality) that the dark-haired Wilma was drugged at an orgy at an exclusive hunt club near Ostia and left for the Mediterranean tides to drown. The magazine named high political and social figures as members of the club, formerly the hunting lodge of Italy's royalty.

Editor on Trial

The magazine's editor, Silvano Muto, is now on trial in a Rome court on charges of spreading false and alarmist reports. Star defense witness Anna Marie Moneta Caglio has testified she suspects her ex-lover Ugo Montagna, a member of the hunt club who calls himself a marquis, knows something about the Montesi girl's death. She said Montagna was a friend of the younger Piccioni, that the two had visited Pavone and that Montagna acquired an apartment in May last year for the police chief. She said she didn't know whether the alleged gift was connected with the Montesi case. Pavone already has denied the Pavone story.

Marion's mobile rescue squad was given a third practice alert in as many weeks at 7 p.m. Thursday night by Police Chief Thomas Coon.

committee for a summer school in Moscow. But he said the school was called off by the Russians before it began, and all that took place was a tour of Russia, in which he did not participate.

As for Stevenson, McCarthy centered on the 1952 presidential candidate's statement that the new administration had turned up only one alleged active Communist among more than two million federal employes.

Denies Statement

That, McCarthy said, "of course is strictly untrue and either Adlai knew that or should know it." The senator said a long list could be made. He cited the names of three persons—"Rothschild," "Levine" and "Powell"—he said were dropped as a result of investigations by his Senate investigations subcommittee.

Edward Rothschild refused to tell the subcommittee last year whether he ever spied for Russia. He was suspended from his job as a bookbinder for the government printing office.

Ruth Wiener Levine resigned in December from her job in a Nutley, N.J., laboratory which does work for the Army's radar laboratories at Ft.Monmouth, N.J. She refused to say whether she conspired with others to spy, although she denied spying herself.

McCarthy said the Army got rid of Mrs. Doris Walters Powell, a civilian employe, after she had been exposed as having served as secretary to a top U.S. Communist.

Replies to Senator

And finally, the senator said, he would "prefer to agree with Lincoln, rather than Flanders."

This was a reply to Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) who criticized McCarthy in a Senate speech portions of which later were endorsed by President Eisenhower.

McCarthy took issue with Flanders' statement that the real Communist peril comes from abroad, and quoted Lincoln as saying if the nation is ever destroyed, it will be from within.

New Liberals

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

Harry Elmer Barnes, the historian, has written another pamphlet to which he has given the elegant title "The Chickens of the Interventionist Liberals Have Come Home to Roost. The Bitter Fruits of Globaloney'

What really puzzles the belligerent professor is that the new liberals are not like the old liberals. Barnes's list of his old liberals is a galaxy of brilliant minds and great personalities, some of whom are still alive and kicking—but they are called reactionaries by the new liberals Let me show you his list:

Amos Pinchot Frederic C Howe, Herbert Croly, Charles Austin Beard, Randolph Bourne, Edward A Ross, George W Norris John T Flynn, Garet Garrett, Oswald Garrison Villard, Edwin M Borchard Robert M LaFollette Clarence Darrow, Burton K Wheeler Samuel B Pettingill John Haynes Holmes, and Lincoln Steffens

I could add many names to that list and among them would be that redoubtable Socialist, Norman Thomas These people believed in man and the rights of man.

THE NEW LIBERALS believe in government and the rights of government As liberals they like to speak of the rights of man but they always become twisted in their philosophy because the adoration of the State, not only as a police power but as a social and political controller of all phases of life, gets in the way of their humanism.

The old liberals believed in liberty, the new liberals believe in the socialization of the ways of living

The old liberals believed in peace and many were pacifists, the new liberals were forced to believe in war because of the existence of Hitler and now they are forced to devote themselves to a pulpulistic coverup of the consequences of America's major historic error, namely, participation in World War II as an ally of Soviet Russia.

Harry Elmer Barnes says of this:

'As a result of the power psychosis and the war that this produced it has come about that those who dominate what is still called the liberal group in America bear much less resemblance to the liberals of the 1920 s than they do to the totalitarians of Europe. . .'

Those who are not familiar with the philosophies which guide men s actions often call the new liberals Communists. The fact is that most of them are anti-Communists just as Mussolini's Fascists were anti-Communists.

THE REASON for so much confusion is that most men know so little about these movements and assert so much.

The new liberals are what they say they hate most, Fascists They accept the State as a holy sanctuary from which all wisdom and goodness emanate Their only criticism of the State is that they do not control it But come the day and they will use the State to perfect mankind

While the motivating ideal of the Marxist is for the State to wither away, when all mankind has accepted the true faith, namely Marxism-Leninism, the new liberal looks to the da ywhen an intellectual elite of his own choosing the Sadducees of the Temple, will produce the perfect society These are not new movements, as for nearly 8 000 years someone or some group has been producing codes for the perfection of man

Hammurabi (circa 2100 B C) tried it, Wang Anshih (1021-86) tried it) even Nietzsche (1844 1900) had an idea, It all comes to little in the end.

BARNES CALLS attention to an already forgotten self-exposure of the liberals who produced the Mass Sedition Trial in 1944-45 The mass trial had heretofore been unknown in American jurisprudence because of the true liberalism (old style) of our Constitution which accepts the Hebraic doctrine that each individual is personally and alone responsible to God (and therefore, to the law) for his personal conduct

Barnes reminds us that the new liberals 'Brought into play the theory of guilt by association' formulated mainly by Harold D Lasswell once a severe critic of war propaganda Now the totalitarian liberals and radicals bitterly criticize this procedure when it has been turned against them That the Sedition Trial failed in its specific objective does not free the liberals and radicals from their responsibility for the sinister effort to ape the Kremlin in 1944 '

As a confirmed conservative who believes in the wisdom of the ages rather than in the current flippancy of an agile mind, I find comfort in the quarrel between the old and new liberals

Iron Hearts

By Victor Riesel

What strange, non hearts the Iron Curtain crowd must have to torture the minds of little children in the Sovieteers' fight for their weird 'new society"

RIESEL

They are not content with having paraded the two little Rosenberg boys, Michael and Robie before the Sing Sing death cell block where the atomic spies awaited execution Nor are they content with having marched them on an inhuman picket line' before the White House

The Sovieteering international propaganda machine now refuses to permit the youngsters to forget the nightmares which must have seared their minds and hearts with pain these past few years

There are responsible New York City officials who fear that the Sovieteers actually will snatch the six and eleven-year-old boys from the United States and put them on a global propaganda road show—just to strike at the U S

This fear was expressed by New York's Welfare Commissioner, Henry McCarthy, who is the temporary legal guardian of all the city's children who have no other legal guardians.

IN THE COURSE of questioning him on the Citizens' Union TV program, "Citizens Searchlight', I found McCarthy deeply and genuinely concerned over the Rosenberg children

Later I asked the commissioner why he was disturbed

'There has always been this fear that the children would be spirited out of the country and used for propaganda purposes abroad," he told me

"Already special committees in East Germany, France, Canada and Japan have been set up to exploit our efforts to settle the youngsters with a respectable family where the boys can forget what happened and grow up without being constantly used as props for propaganda shows," McCarthy said

Then the commissioner, revealing what has never before been reported, explained his fears McCarthy began with the time the school authorities in Toms River N J, ruled that the boys (six and eleven years old) could not stay in its public school unless they assumed permanent residence in that area.

McCarthy then called the late Emanuel Bloch attorney for the spies and temporary guardian of the children, to a conference at which it was hoped peacefully to settle the youngsters' fate.

McCarthy wanted the little boys to be turned over to a family named by the New York Surrogates Court. That was in November Bloch said he'd have to discuss it with his 'colleagues"

THERE WAS ANOTHER meeting in December Bloch then rejected the McCarthy proposal, but promised not to disturb or move the children without the approval of the commissioner who really had legal responsibility for them since the parents came from New York.

At this second session, McCarthy also promised to take no legal action to remove the children from Bloch's guardianship

Then McCarthy offered Bloch a counter proposal—a three - man guardianship committee consisting of Bloch and two officers of leading child care associations Again Bloch said he'd have to consult with some people Guess who!

Bloch deliberately double crossed McCarthy, the city authorities and the child-care agencies Last Christmas Eve the attorney spirited the youngsters from Toms River He asked no one He just turned the youngsters over to the Abel Meeropols They are not relatives They were Bloch s friends

McCarthy didn t learn of the snatch until Jan 6 When he tried to reach Bloch the commissioner was told that the lawyer was on a speaking tour to raise money for the "Committee to Gather Funds for the Education of the Rosenberg Children '

That committee raised $44 000 Now the attorneys for the Meeropols and for Grandma Rosenberg are saying that this money is not necessarily the property of the youngsters.

Bloch was scheduled to return on Feb 2 and McCarthy left orders for him to come in that day for a showdown Bloch was found dead in a weird manner on Jan 30 The city now is trying to get the youngsters so they can be placed where they will forget these nightmarish years

ONCE MORE the international Sovieteering propaganda apparatus, fearful that it may lose so juicy an issue as the two little boys is whipping up a global frenzy

The Domestic Relations Court judge, the venerable Jacob Panken, is being besieged with telegrams from throughout the world Red unions in France Japan and occupied China, are blasting the U S for having the temerity to want to let these kids forget

East German Communists have offered them a "haven' from this capitalist hell' The American Labor party, controlled by the Sovieteers has condemned the persecution" of the boys by New York City

The party line committee to "educate' the children tells inquirers to continue sending money to the fund and mark the envelopes for defense' Just call LOngacre 4-9585 in New York City They'll tell you the money will be 'properly earmarked' For whom? The kids? Or the Soviets' 'new society' which snatches its propaganda from the cradle or the grave?

Pleasure Cruise

By Hal Boyle

ABOARD THE MAURETANIA AT SEA (AP)—My idea of a pleasure cruise is pretty much like that of most married men—it's the journey between the dinnnr table and the nearest couch

And you make it on foot

Wives have a different idea of a pleasure cruise They think you have to dress up and leave the house They think a ship is involved

HAL BOYLE

For 14 years I satisfied my wife's yearning for an ocean cruise by taking her on an annual vacation voyage on the Staten Island ferry A round trip cost us a dime apiece

'Smell that bracing sea air!' I'd explain coughing in the harbor smoke See the Statue of Liberty? Look at that Manhattan skyline' You can't beat travel, can you' But it sure does make you appreciate home Let's go home.'

WHENEVER Frances murmured she would like a longer voyage I told her there was nothing beyond Staten Island but mountainous waves dangerous sea monsters hidden reefs—and perilous Miami winter hotel prices

I told her Europe was a myth Asia a legend When she inquired about Africa I said there was no point in sailing there as Tarzan had moved on to Hollywood, leaving the place absolutely deserted except for a few literary lions who chased zebras by day and read the collected works of Ernest Hemingway by moonlight.

As Frances like most wives never knows when to believe her husband I got along pretty well—or thought I did But this year, when I remarked it was about time to change a quarter and make the long voyage to Staten Island, I ran into rebellion

'Don t be silly, Rover" said Frances "We are going to take an 18-day sunshine cruise to the West Indies and South America '

WELL AT FIRST I tried to tell her the West Indies had been overrun by a herd of man-eating walruses then I told her the natives still shrunk tourists' heads in South America. No go

'Don t give me that tired old guff, Rover,' she replied 'If a native wants to shrink your big head, all I ask is that he start with your jaw"

"But we can't afford a cruise, I groaned

"Oh, yes, we can" she said "They have a nice new man at the bank who says he is willing to lend money on character rather than on suspicion. I showed him your picture, and he said, well if you didn't have character you certainly didn t have anything. Anyway he lent us the money"

"I m not getting mixed up in any deals between you and a near-sighted banker We re not going Sorry, I have to put my foot down '

"Well, sorry right back We are too going I have to put my foot down What do you say to that?

"Ouch" I said 'Get off my foot! '

"Why don t you really want to go, Rover?"'

"It's that I get seasick,' I confessed finally Terribly terribly seasick Even in a bathtub That s why I ve taken showers all these years '

THEN FRANCES pulled her clincher—a magic new seasick remedy She held up a bottle Positively guaranteed One pill to cure a dizzy blonde Two pills and a man can t see the waves in a wire-haired terrier Three pills and even a seasick elephant will swagger to the rail and spit in the ocean

"Okay," I said, 'when do we sail'

"Surprise" said Frances "Tomorrow Start packing I ve had the tickets for days"

So it was that my wife, our 8-month old daughter, Tracy, and I moved seaward aboard this liner carrying 18 pieces of luggage, of which only 14 were full of diapers

"Are we going to visit the West Indies, or settle them?' I asked "Why did you leave the sofa behind?"

'Oh quiet down, Rover" Frances called from the porthole "Come to the window, I want to show you something"

I looked out and said all I could see was the Statue of Liberty,

"That's what I meant," said Frances "Bon voyage, Staten Island bon voyage '

"You know" I said, looking out at the Statue of Liberty again the way the sun hits the old girl right now it looks as if she were laughing"

'I wonder why" said Frances smiling

Novel Check on Phone Manners

Agriculture Department Playing 'Baseball' Game

By OVID A MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employes of the Department of Agriculture are getting the chance to run through a fast few innings of baseball—sort of—during working hours It's all in the line of duty, the duty to treat the public right over the telephone

Pressing for more polite and efficient telephone practices the department is asking its employes to fill out questionnaires and score forms, all dressed up in baseball lingo

For example Is Doakes here the sort who pounces on the phone before it has had a chance to ring a second time? Then (crack whistle) he has beat out a home run Under the rules of the agriculture diamond no slavish copy of those prevailing in Yankee Stadium and elsewhere he can rack up eight points for himself

On the other hand those same rules deal harshly with double, or triple, plays

'Do you instead of transferring calls to others who might also pass the buck get the information and call back"'

The unfortunate who cannot answer 'Yes must score a strikeout against himself

If the self scorer makes 90 points or more in answering the questions he may term himself a big leaguer Between 80 and 90 points puts him in the bush league class, 70 to 80 in the sandlot division

If he scores under 70 points he must mark himself benched' that is, for scoring purposes

Some of the questions are 'Do you avoid such abrupt phrases as 'Who s calling?', 'Do you use such polite phrases as 'Please' 'Thank you' 'I'm sorry?" Do you sound interested awake, helpful friendly pleasant?"

The department gets explicit about courtesy

'Answer promptly identify yourself when answering speak pleasantly show interest be as helpful as possible make sure referrals are made to the right person go out of your way to assure good service offer to call back or have someone else call back if you aren't sure about the inquiry (don t take a chance) jot down requests or promises so they won't be forgotten"

Senator Caught in Intense Crossfire

McCarthy's Political Career Is at Stake

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the past 10 days Sen. McCarthy has been under the most intense cross-fire of his eight Senate years. Another man might have been shaken, shocked or stopped. Not McCarthy.

He's still fighting. As events pile up it seems his political life may be at stake. Here are main events of the 10 days.

March 2. Leonard Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, visits President Eisenhower, comes out saying he can't go along with the Wisconsin Republican senator when he attacks those fighting communism just as "conscientiously as he is." A few weeks before Hall called McCarthy a party asset.

March 3. Eisenhower, at a news conference, mildly criticizes McCarthy for his handling of witnesses. McCarthy replies in effect he'll handle witnesses as he sees it.

March 4. Secretary of Defense Wilson says "just damn tommy-rot" to charges that the Army coddles Communists.

March 4. The White House says hundreds of telegrams pour in after news conference, run 9 to 1 in the President's favor. McCarthy says letters and telegrams to him run 95 per cent in his favor.

March 4. Republican members of McCarthy's committee dress down Roy Cohn, committee counsel, for allegedly intervening with Army for special treatment for G. David Schine. Schine was Cohn's associate on committee until drafted. The committee's Democratic members ask the Army for a report on this.

March 5. McCarthy quietly withdraws a two-million-dollar libel suit against former Sen. Benton (D-Conn), who said McCarthy was unfit to sit in Senate. McCarthy says his lawyers could find no one willing to testify he believed Benton.

March 5. John F. Kane, special assistant to Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, resigns, saying his chief has not had "fighting support" in struggle with McCarthy. McCarthy-Stevens feud, begun when Stevens said McCarthy "abused" a general, has set 10 days' events in motion.

March 5. McCarthy flies from New York to Miami to consult, he says, with his investigators.

March 6. Also in Miami Adlai Stevenson, on a nationwide radio-television hookup, attacks McCarthy and Eisenhower for not being tougher with McCarthy.

March 7. McCarthy says he'll demand networks give him free equal time to reply to Stevenson.

March 8. The networks turn down McCarthy, grant Republican National Committee free time to answer Stevenson. Eisenhower had approved the committee move, reportedly suggested it. Blocked, McCarthy threatens the networks will give him free time or "learn what the law is."

March 8. A highly placed Republican, insisting his name not be used, says Eisenhower administration made decision to get McCarthy off front pages.

March 9. Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) scorches McCarthy in Senate speech, saying McCarthy "is doing his best to wreck the party."

March 9. Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) steps across field McCarthy may have thought he had blocked out for himself: investigation of communism in the armed forces. Saltonstall says his Armed Services Committee will investigate it.

March 9. Edward R. Murrow, CBS commentator, devotes 30-minute program to McCarthy. Network reports later being swamped with calls and telegrams overwhelmingly in favor of Murrow.

March 10. Eisenhower at his news conference publicly praises portions of Flanders' speech attacking McCarthy. Flanders reveals he got "nice letter" from Eisenhower.

March 11. McCarthy calls as witness a middle-aged Negro woman, Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, suspended Army communications worker, saying he was going to show how Army handled a Communist. Mrs. Moss denies ever being Communist. Sen. Symington (D-Mo) says he's inclined to believe her. She says two other women by the same name live in Washington.

March 11. On time provided by a radio commentator, Fulton Lewis Jr., who asked questions which flames back at Stevenson, Flanders and Murrow. The Mutual network, on which McCarthy speaks, reports in New York that in the first 5 hours, 934 phone calls are received supporting the senator and 334 against him.

March 11. The Army gives inquiring senators report claiming McCarthy and Cohn both interceded for Schine and that Cohn threatened the Army and Stevens if Schine didn't get special treatment.

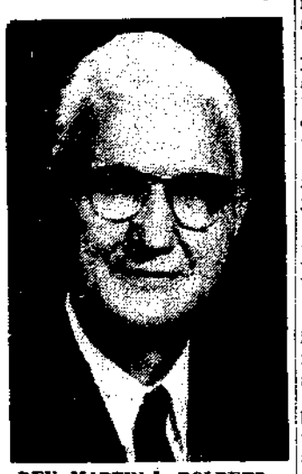
Rev. Dolbeer Appointed

New Pastor at St. Paul's Former India Missionary

Rev. Martin Luther Dolbeer will take over his full-time duties as new pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church in Marion Sunday. He succeeds the late Rev. Henry Schaeffer who was pastor of the congregation 10 years. His place of residence has been in Springfield, O.

The new pastor is giving up work as a foreign missionary in India for the United Lutheran Church in order to come to Marion. Born in the home of a pastor, he was educated at Susquehanna College, and Hamma Divinity School which is connected with Wittenberg College at Springfield, and holds master and doctor's degrees. Ordained in 1919, he served a pastorate at North Baltimore, O. until 1921. After volunteering for service abroad, he left for India with his wife and infant son in November, 1921, and has given four terms of service to that work, 1921-1953.



REV. MARTIN L. DOLBEER
Will Start New Duties Sunday

—:—

THE INDIA MISSION of the United Lutheran Church is located in the Telugu or Andhra Area of India, along the eastern coast of South India, bordering on the Bay of Bengal. This section was separated from Madras Province and made into a new Andhra State in October, 1953. The new state has a population of 22 million, of whom somewhat more than one million are Christian. Several large and growing churches in the area are the result of consistent work for more than a century by missions of the Church of England, English Methodists, American and Canadian Baptists, English Congregationalists, American Methodists and two groups of American Lutherans, U.L.C. and A.L.C.

The Andhra Evangelical Lutheran Church now numbers 240,000 Christians in 2,230 congregations. The church conducts an extensive congregational and evangelistic work, with some 700 full-time workers, pastors, catechists, evangelists and Bible women; a large educational work of 825 schools of all grades, one college, six high schools, four normal training schools, 22 secondary schools, and 792 elementary schools employing more than 3,000 teachers with a total of 72,000 pupils; also an extensive medical work, seven hospitals and a tuberculosis sanatorium, as well as industrial work for both men and women.

REV. DOLBEER has been an evangelistic missionary through most of his service, working with success among both caste and outcaste communities. In recent years he has also taught in the theological seminary at Rajahmundry, and directed the program of religious education in the schools of the church. He is the author of several books and numerous smaller writings both in English and Telugu. His book, "What About Communism?" is being widely used as a study book by Christian groups in India. He has also been interested in Indian music composing the music settings used in the liturgy of the Andhra Lutheran Church, and helping to develop the use of music in evangelism.

Mrs. Dolbeer was formerly Miss Jennie A. Clifton of Chicago, Ill. Dr. and Mrs. Dolbeer are the parents of four children, Martin Jr., a pastor in Southington, Conn.; Robert, a music instructor in Tecumseh High School, Clark County, O.; William, a student in the University of Cincinnati engineering college; and Euxine, a senior in High School at Springfield.

Although he accepted the call to the pastorate here some time ago, Rev. Dolbeer has until now been filling a schedule of speaking engagements on missions throughout the state which he had arranged previously. Mrs. Dolbeer and Euxine will stay in Springfield until the end of the school year. At the service here Sunday morning the sermon subject will be "Increase and Abound."

Loftiest Wedding Down To Earth After 6 Weeks

DENVER (AP) — It took just six weeks for the principals in Denver's loftiest wedding to get down out of the clouds.

Max A. Wilk and his bride, the former Mrs. Mary Varnell, have separated, she said yesterday.

They married Jan. 31 atop the Denver Club building, 260 feet above the mile-high city, after Wilk accepted a dare to marry on a scaffolding at the peak of the new building's skeleton.

Mrs. Wilk, 52, gave no reason for the separation from her 55-year-old husband.

Robber in Chicago Gets Worst End of Bargain

CHICAGO (AP)—A robber got $10 in a store holdup yesterday but it cost him his 1953 Cadillac, his gun, his glasses and his cap.

Carlo Ingo, 47, a clerk in a 24-hour shopping center, told police the robber held him up in the store and fled.

Ingo said he seized a pistol kept in the back room of the store and gave chase in his own car. He curbed the getaway car three blocks away and opened fire, shattering a window. The occupant got away on foot.

Haymes Seeks To Delay Deportation Proceeding

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Counsel for Dick Haymes has appealed to U.S. Judge Ernest Tolin for a delay of deportation proceedings against the debt-beleaguered crooner.

Haymes, husband of actress Rita Hayworth, faces deportation to his native Argentina for failure to reapply for admission to the continental United States after visiting Miss Hayworth in Honolulu last summer before they were married.

Judge Tolin set a hearing March 22 on Haymes' petition for delay in his deportation.

Terrorists To Die

FEZ, French Morocco (AP)—A military tribunal sentenced 10 Moroccans to death yesterday on charges of terroristic killings, bombings, arson and other crimes.

In 1953 California grew about 2,449,000 tons of grapes valued at $107,223,000.

$2 MILLION EXPANSION

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Kaiser Motor Corp. says a two million dollar expansion program at its Shadyside (Belmont County) press plant will begin immediately and will be complete about July 1.

'Central Issuance' System Considered

State Studying New Plan on Auto Tags

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio may end those lines formed yearly by motorists buying new plates just before the March 31 deadline for old tags.

The State Bureau of Motor Vehicles is studying "central issuance" systems used by some other states.

Under that method, Ohio would issue all licenses from Columbus by mail, explained Robert E. Foley of Delaware. Foley is state registrar of motor vehicles in the new Department of Highway Safety.

The study ordered by Gov. Frank J. Lausche applies to drivers' licenses as well as motor vehicle tags.

Changes recommended in licensing laws would require action by the Legislature, Foley said.

Lausche indicated that he would urge legislative action on changes that officials believed would benefit Ohio's licensing system.

Foley reported that officials appeared agreed on the need for a law requiring license holders to notify the bureau of changes in address.

He said the requirement for both driver and auto license holders would aid enforcement of motor vehicle laws. It also would help authorities to locate relatives of license holders in emergencies, he added.

Ohio auto tags are good for one year but driver licenses run for three years from the holders' birthdate.

Discussing the problem, Lausche told newsmen:

"The records disclose that about 40 per cent change their addresses in the course of the three-year period. The suggestion has been made that upon the change of address the driver should be required to notify the registrar of motor vehicles. That thought is being explored with the view of determining what should be done."

Foley said changes of address occur most frequently in cities. Not all 40 per cent move; some change addresses several times within three years, he explained.

Some officials feel that a "central issuance" system in Columbus would curb fake registrations. Foley said almost daily prosecutions for giving false names and addresses result in license cancellations throughout the state.

He expressed belief that the dates for issuing licenses would have to be "staggered" throughout the year, somewhat like those for drivers' licenses, if plates were issued from Columbus.

That's because Ohio licenses about 3¼ million cars, trucks and other motor vehicles a year. About 3½ million drivers are licensed and an additional 800,000 obtain temporary permits annually.

The bureau now issues all "reservation" plates from Columbus by mail. Also those for physicians, amateur radio operators and "historical" vehicles.

First licenses—for new drivers and those from other states—also come from the bureau in Columbus.

Shelley Winters To Seek Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Shelley Winters' attorney said last night he will file a divorce suit soon in Santa Monica Superior Court against Vittorio Gassman, Italian actor.

Jerry Giesler, who filed the actress' separate maintenance suit in Santa Monica last Jan. 18, said the couple has reached a friendly agreement and that Gassman will not contest the divorce action, which will charge mental cruelty.

The agreement reached in Rome provides for Miss Winters to retain custody of the couple's 11-month-old daughter and for Gassman to pay $5,000 a year toward the child's support.

Likens Covenant Church Plans Evening Services

Sunday evening services will get under way on Sunday at 7:30 at the Likens Covenant Church, the pastor, Rev. Warren W. Lindstrom, announced. The services will tend to be informal with an emphasis on music, he said. For morning worship Sunday at 11, the sermon topic will be "The Days of Passion Week—Tuesday," and at the evening service the subject will be "People Jesus Met on the Way to the Cross." Bible study at the midweek service Wednesday night will be on verses 23 to 52 of the tenth chapter of Mark.

Potatoes Good St. Patrick's Day Fare

Recipe Suggests Stuffing Them With Parsley After Baking

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The Irish potato may not be a native of the Emerald Isle, but because its been living there happily since the 16th Century, we think our special treatment of the spud is fair fare on St. Patrick's Day.

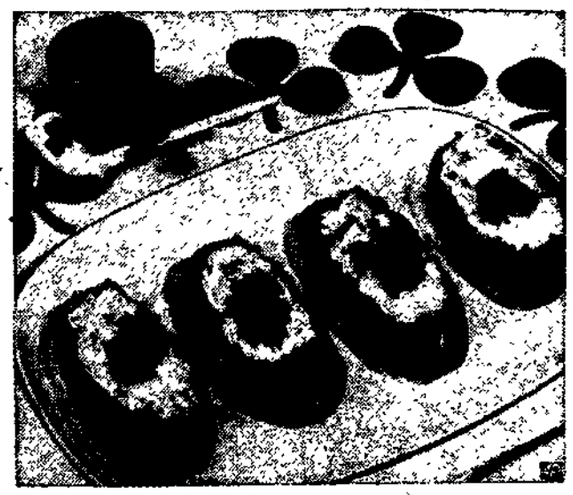
Our Baked Potatoes, wearing a pretty fresh parsley stuffing, will taste mighty good with golden broiled fish fillets on March 17. Mustard pickles, hot rolls and a savory cole slaw are good go-alongs.

Take advantage of our present heavy supply of Irish potatoes; they are a thrifty energy food. When eaten daily, they can supply important amounts of vitamin C; they also furnish some B vitamins, iron and other minerals. A medium-sized potato contains no more calories than a large apple or banana—a point weight-watchers might remember.

When you're buying potatoes look for those that are smooth, clean in appearance and firm-textured. Choose those that have shallow "eyes." Once you get them home, keep potatoes in the dark. Light may cause green spots that should not be eaten, so keep your potatoes covered.

So many good Irish dishes we have eaten with potatoes! Colcannon for one. Want to try it? First steam and mash your potatoes. Then shred green cabbage and cook with a slice or two of bacon until very tender; force through a strainer or food mill. Mix potatoes and cabbage with a little butter or margarine and cream, a suspicion of minced onion, salt and freshly-ground pepper. There you have something wonderfully satisfying.

We're also partial to another Irish combination—mashed potatoes and turnips. This didn't sound exciting when we first heard about it, but once tasted we became enthusiastic. Of course the addition of a good lump of butter or margarine, salt and freshly-ground pepper doesn't hurt this



ST. PATRICK'S DAY SPECIAL. Stuffed Irish potatoes, flecked with parsley.

PARSLEY STUFFED BAKED POTATOES

Ingredients: 4 large baking potatoes (about ½ pound each), ¼ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup milk, 1½ teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper, 3 tablespoons minced fresh parsley, 2 tablespoons minced onion, parsley sprigs.

Method: Scrub potatoes; bake in a very hot 450 F) oven until tender when pierced with a fork — about 15 minutes. As soon as the potatoes are baked, cut a slice from the top of each; scoop out potato, being careful not to break the skin. Mash potatoes until there are no lumps, or put through a ricer. Add butter, milk, salt, pepper, minced parsley and onion; mix well. Pile mixture into potato shells, rounding the top. Bake in shallow baking pan in very hot 450 F) oven until lightly browned — 5 to 10 minutes. If potatoes are stuffed and then refrigerated, allow more time for reheating.) Garnish with parsley sprigs and serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If the oven needs to be set lower than 450 F for another dish, the potatoes may be baked at this lower temperature until they are tender; they may also be reheated at a lower temperature.

Japs Hear Prime Minister of Canada

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada told Japan today the democratic processes of the West offer more opportunities than the "empty promises of communism."

The visiting executive, in a speech before the Canada-Japan Society, recommended "collective measures to repel aggression," and trade with the West.

UNION REJECTED

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The CIO Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers yesterday was rejected as collective bargaining representative by employes of the Shawnee Pottery plant. The union, the only one on the ballot, lost the National Labor Relations Board election 86-26. Employes recently struck the plant for four months in a wage dispute.

Sheldrick Firm At Upper Quits

Stallings Says Plant Shutdown To Be Final

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Sheldrick Manufacturing Co. plant in Upper Sandusky was slated to close down with the completion of the regular work week today.

The shutdown, said President Frank B. Stallings, will be complete and there are no present plans to reopen the shop, which as been making industrial tools including mill cutters, drills, reamers and other similar products.

The president added there are no plans, at present, to move the shop to another location and the assets of the company have not been sold. The plant was moved to Upper Sandusky from Detroit in 1947 and has employed from 50 to 100 men in its operations here.

Early in January this year, G. E. Sheldrick Jr., then president of the company, announced its sale to Harold C. Schott and Associates, of Cleveland. New officers elected soon after the sale were Stallings, president; Howard J. Vanden Enyden, vice president, and Edward R. Green, secretary. All are of Cleveland.

Harold C. Schott and Associates are interested in a number of industries in Ohio, Indiana and Missouri, including the Novo Engine Co., of Lansing, Mich., and the Farm Tolls, Inc., of Mansfield.

2nd Crawford County School Head Resigns

BUCYRUS — The Board of Education at Holmes-Liberty Consolidated School, northwest of Bucyrus, accepted the resignation of Supt. Sewell S. Cameron by a 3 to 2 vote at its regular monthly meeting Wednesday night.

Supt. Cameron said today he had no comment to make on the board's action and his future plans. He came to Holmes-Liberty in 1950 from Piqua, O.

Cameron's resignation is the second received in the Crawford County school system this month. Last week, Carles L. Overholser, superintendent for the past two years at Chatfield Consolidated School, sumitted his resignation to the board, which has taken no official action on it.

Overholser submitted his resignation following a difference of opinion regarding his action in ruling ineligible Donald Kalb, a basketball player. Kalb later was reinstated on the team. It was reported Kalb was removed from the team temporarily as a disciplinary measure.

Overholser came to Chatfield in 1952 from Dayton, where he was a teacher at Fairmont High School. Expiration date of his present contract is 1955.

Kiwanis Hears Ohio Wesleyan Football Coach

Glenn M. Fraser, football coach at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, was guest speaker at the Marion Kiwanis Club weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

The speaker spoke on the evaluation of a college in regard to its athletic activities. First of all, it's academic worth should be considered, the admission each year and the number that stay in and finish school.

Other points of consideration are finances of the college, coaching and material offered, and traditions of the school. Traditions many times attract young men and women to a school, he said.

Following his talk, Mr. Fraser showed films of Ohio Wesleyan games of the past season.

Program chairman for the day was John Smith.

An announcement was made of the ladies night party to be held next Thursday. For those unable to attend, a make-up meeting will be held at noon.

Guests were Carl Knirk and Forest D. Loudenslager.

Try Shamrock Mold for Holiday Feast

Shredded Coconut Adds Flavor to Lime Gelatin Dessert With Fruit

Put green groceries on your market list for St. Patrick's Day, March 17. Is the family celebrating at suppertime? Then start with green split pea soup and tiny buttered croutons. Go on to a boneless smoked pork shoulder butt or half-ham; accompany the meat with chutney—just for a different touch. Serve parsley potatoes, too, and a green vegetable such as creamed spinach or broccoli. Tossed greens will make a crisp and crunchy salad course. Then bring on the crowning glory—a molded dessert, as green as lime-flavored gelatin will make it!

This dessert is a little different because coconut, as well as dates and oranges, go into it. The coconut gives it good flavor and interesting texture. But one tip: be sure to chop the coconut in short lengths, as the recipe directs, before adding it to the gelatin. This way the dessert will be easier to cut into portions than if you leave the coconut in long shreds. Here's the recipe.

LIME COCONUT FRUIT MOLD

Ingredients: 2 packages lime-flavored gelatin, 2 cups very hot water, 1 cup cold water, 1 cup orange juice, 2 oranges, 20 pitted dates, 1½ cups shredded coconut, cream, toasted coconut.

Method: Add gelatin to very hot water and stir until dissolved. Stir in cold water and orange juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Meanwhile peel oranges, removing white membrane; dice. Slice dates. Chop coconut into short lengths. Fold oranges, dates and coconut into slightly thickened gelatin. Turn into shamrock mold or 8 by 8 by 2-inch pan; chill until firm. Unmold. Whip cream and spread over top of gelatin dessert; sprinkle with toasted coconut. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Note: To toast coconut, spread thin in shallow baking pan. Place in moderate (350 F) oven; stir coconut often so it will toast evenly; remove from oven when it is a delicate brown.

SHAMROCK DESSERT. Easy to make with lime-flavored gelatin for the holiday feast.

If friends are expected in the afternoon or evening on St. Patrick's Day, here are snack suggestions.

Sandwich rolls, filled with water cress or canned drained green asparagus will make good-tasting an attractice offerings. Butter the bread well and spread it with mayonnaise before rolling around the filling.

Any small fry or teen - agers among the guests? Then make them a St. Pat's Cooler by mixing grapefruit juice with carbonated water; tint a pale green and sweeten to taste. Garnish the Coolers with green maraschino cherries, if they are available. Youngsters love them!

Use your favorite sugar-cookie recipe, rolling the dough very thin; cut into shamrock shapes with a floured cutter and bake as usual. Spread half the cooled cookies with frosting tinted green and top with the remaining cookies.

If layer cake is planned, you can make it up from a white or yellow cake mix. Put the layers together with a pineapple filling and frost with cream that's tinted pale green, whipped and sweetened.

Barons Attempt To Cinch Runner-Up Spot Tonight

Louisville Skaters Appear In Rescheduled IHL Contest

Marion's Barons make a rare Friday night appearance on home ice tonight when they host the visiting Louisville skaters in a rescheduled International Hockey League battle.

With a three point edge over third place Johnstown, the runner-up Barons will be attempting to clinch their present IHL position.

The Jets have two remaining games—one with Marion here Sunday—but a Baron win in any of their final three IHL games this weekend will seal the runner-up spot for the local skaters.

On Road Saturday

Tonight's game here will be followed Saturday night with a game at Grand Rapids before the Barons return to the Coliseum Sunday for their final game before the IHL playoffs. Johnstown is the Marion opponent Sunday.

The Barons will be attempting to clinch their season series with the homeless Shooting Stars tonight. Marion has won the last three battles by scores of 7-2, 7-4 and 7-6 to take a 4-3 edge in their season rivalry. Prior to that, Louisville had beaten the Barons, 4-3, 2-0 and 6-2 after the Barons took the opening game of the series with Louisville by a 5-3 count.

Marion will be shooting to extend a pair of marks tonight—the Barons have won three of their last four games and 11 of the past 12 home ice battles. After a slow start, the Barons' season slate shows a 24-7 home ice mark and a 14-16 slate on the road. The local skaters lost their first five road games and at points in the season had 4-10, 6-12 and 10-15 road game records.

When the Barons journey to Grand Rapids for their game with the Rockets Saturday night, they will be meeting one of their favorite IHL patsies. Marion holds a 6-1 advantage over the Rockets, winning the last six in a row after dropping the opening series match 3-0. Marion has outscored Grand Rapids 42-18 in their seven IHL games this season.

Barons Lead in Series

Marion holds a 6-1 series advantage over its Sunday rival — Johnstown—and has outscored the Jets 28-16 in the games.

Records against the remaining IHL squads are 3-5, 17-29, with Cincinnati; 7-1, 49-22, with Milwaukee; 6-2, 42-35, with Troy; 3-5, 26-23, with Ft. Wayne; and 3-5, 22-25, with Toledo.

Troy and Grand Rapids continued their battle for an IHL play-off berth last night when Troy beat the Rockets 7-1. Both are tied for the qualifying sixth spot with 59 points now with Troy having two more IHL games to play and Grand Rapids one.

Twenty minutes prior to the opening face off at Sunday's game with Johnstown, at 2:40 p.m., Leland Watson, Coliseum custodian, and Miss Helen Loyer of near Marion will be married on the Coliseum rink.

Ingoldsby New Father

Joe Ingoisby, popular front line star for the Marion Barons, was passing out cigars today. His wife presented Joe with an eight-pound, five-ounce son this morning at San Antonio Hospital in Kenton. It is the first child for Mr. and Mrs. Ingoldsby and was born at one minute past midnight this morning.

Hurley, Garcia Win Armory Tag Event

Bowery Boy Hurley and Aztec Garcia teamed up in a tag event last night at the armory to hand Black Panther and Ricky Waldo a whipping.

The losers took the first fall when Waldo pinned Garcia with a crab hold in 14 minutes. The count evened in the second when Waldo fell victim to a Mexican Hangman's hold by Garcia in 16 minutes. The Black Panther was forced to submit to a crab hold by Hurley after nine minutes in the third fall.

China Myra won over Mars Bennett in another full length bout. Bennett won with a body slam in 12 minutes of the first fall but fell to the Cuban after 11 minutes in the second. Bennett was disqualified in the third fall.

George Macricostas was winner of the 30-minutes opener over Jim Lewis.

Redlegs' Regulars To Handle Hurling

TAMPA, Fla (AP)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts planned to switch to a couple of last year's regular pitchers today as the Cincinnati Redlegs renewed their spring training series with the Chicago White Sox.

Tebbetts, who has been letting his rookie hurlers do most of the work in "A" team games, said he would use Jackie Collum and Joe Nuxhall along with rookie Corky Valentine against the Sox.

The Reds pulled up to a 2-2 spring training game mark yesterday with a 7-6 victory over Pittsburgh but they had to have a lot of help from the Pirates. The Bucs committed five errors and one of them let in the winning run in the ninth.

Mt. Gilead Meets Williamsport for Tournament Title

Mt. Gilead will meet Williamsport of Pickaway County Saturday night at 8 p.m. in their bid for the Central District Class B tournament title at Capital University.

Williamsport, holders of a tourney win over St. Mary, jumped into the title fray with a 71-62 overtime win last night over highly-rated Lancaster St. Mary. The Deers will be seeking their second straight trip to regional action.

The Deers were forced to come from behind in notching their semi-final win. Trailing at the start of the final period by a 48-41 count, the winners' attack perked up and with 13 seconds to play they went ahead 61-59. The Lancaster squad managed to knot the score just as the clock ran out.

The Deers spurted into a seven-point bulge early in the extra stanza and then controlled the ball for the verdict. It was their 19th of the season.

Lancaster lost the services of its No. 1 playmaker, Harry Fitzpatrick, in the last minute of the regulation contest. With Fitzpatrick on the bench, the Shamrock attack fell apart. He had dropped in 28 points during the game, high for the tourney.

In the lower bracket at Otterbein College Amanda squeezed by Liberty-Union 53-49 to win a spot in championship play Saturday. It will take on Hartford for the bracket crown at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Jennings Signs

CHICAGO (AP) — Jack Jennings, 250-pound tackle and last year's captain, today signed a 1954 contract with the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League.

The club also announced it had signed Robert L. Stephenson of Ravenna, Ohio, to a contract. Stephenson has no college football experience, but was the fastest lineman the last two years with the Quantico Marines, a service team.

RIVERA INJURED. Jim Rivera, Chicago White Sox outfielder, has injured side rubbed with rubbing alcohol by Nurse Betty Fowler at St. Joseph's Hospital at Tampa, Fla. He was injured when he crashed into the right centerfield fence at Al Lopez field while chasing a fly ball in an exhibition game against Cincinnati 'B' squad. Jim was playing with Sox 'B' team. Hospital said he would be kept overnight.

Elevator, UAW, Kenton Teams Win at Y; Irish Seniors To Play

Green Camp Elevator, United Auto Workers and Sturgis Market of Kenton advanced to the quarter finals in the YMCA Invitational Tournament last night.

Tonight's action will feature McMillen Feed and the Marion AC at 7. Lenon's Furniture versus Farm Bureau at 8 and the Wyandot Vaults and Garvins Sunoco of Bucyrus at 9.

The Lennon's team is composed of St. Mary High School seniors. Mike Anderson, Jack McNamara, Butch Merchant, Jack O'Keeffe, Don Shoemaker, Larry Ryan and Pat O'Connor will see action with Ray Robbins their coach, Dan McGinnis, assistant coach, and Jack McGrath, former Elm Valley great.

Green Camp Elevator snowed the Marion Poultry five under an avalanche of buckets, winning easily 95-41 in the first of last night's games. Jim Ruth had 22 to lead the Green Camp scorers, while Ron Craycraft, Berl Hilborne and Vern Hensel followed with 21, 19 and 18 points. Ken Comstock's 12 points was high for the losers.

The UAW-CIO pounded Alloy 54-32 in the second game after a two week period without action. Bob Ritchie poured in 19 points to continue in his role as the UAW's high point getter. Laird and Cahill supported Ritchie's performance by adding 12 points each.

Bird-McGinnis blew a six-point lead at the beginning of the final period and dropped a tightly played game to Kenton in the final five minutes 66-61. The local Legion team had overcome a four-point deficit which Kenton had built up in the first period. Oates, who pitched in a total of 23 points with his one hand push shot from the foul circle, broke the game wide open by scoring 12 of his 23 points in the final period. Ken Jones was Bird-McGinnis' top scorer with 18.

OSU Defense Better

Hayes Raps Critics of Grid Game in Eber Baker Talk

By FRED THOMAS

There is nothing better for young boys than organized, well-coached football, Ohio State coach Woody Hayes told about 160 persons at the Eber Baker Junior High School athletic banquet last night at Harding High School.

Football, even on the junior high level, has come in for much criticism lately, Hayes said. However a sound junior high program is invaluable if boys play within their size and age groups.

Another criticism of football is that not enough boys are allowed to participate, Hayes pointed out. Not everyone is qualified to play football, he said; allowing all to play encourages mediocrity.

Commenting on the 1954 Ohio State season, Hayes said the Buckeye's defense should be improved. If the offense holds up, Ohio State should have a good team, he said.

Other speakers on the program were Harding High School coaches Pete Howison, Jim Lawler and Ken Somerlot. Howison talked on 10th grade football at Harding, and Somerlot discussed scholarship and sports. Lawler encouraged all boys to come out for sports and let the coaches decide their potentialities.

Baker's football, basketball and cheerleading teams received their certificates at the banquet. Coach Don Zeisler presented the football and basketball certificates while Miss Barbara Ann Axe gave the cheer leading awards.

Harold Carroll, president of the Eber Baker PTA group, served as toastmaster of the banquet. The invocation was led by Marion City superintendent of schools L. L. Dickey and Norman Griggs directed group singing.

Baker's cheerleaders gave a singing skit on "Why study at all" and were honored by a cheer from the Baker boys. Cheerleaders receiving awards were: Martha Bowden, Lois Roddy, Sandy Beach, Judy Jones, Jan Taylor and Donna Eller, captain.

Basketball certificates went to: Gary Sanders, Jed Middleton, Bill Smith, Gene Somerlot, Larry Henry, Richard Dixon, Larry Gamble, Pete Bailey, Jack Noggle, Dick Ulery, Harold Farson and managers John Bull and Dave Disbennett. The team also received miniature basketballs from the Baker PTA.

Graham Signs For One More Grid Campaign

CLEVELAND (AP)—Otto Graham, "the highest paid player in pro football," said today he hopes to retire from the Cleveland Browns after the 1954 season, but added:

"If they need me and want me, I'll play another season or two after that."

Coach Paul Brown, announcing yesterday his star quarterback had signed another contract, declared the passer would get top money. No figures were made public, but Graham reportedly had been earning around $20,000.

Brown also announced today he had signed two men who had been on the team's reserve list while they were in military service.

They are Ed Bradley, a 225-pound guard from Iowa who played for two seasons with the San Diego Marines, and Floyd Huggins, a sprinting fullback from the University of Florida.

Ted Kluszewski of the Redlegs hit 23 homers at Crosley Field in 1953.

Hal Newhouser Facing Mound Test for Tribe

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Hal Newhouser—his hopes rising for a pitching comeback—gives his arm the big test Sunday when he works an exhibition for Cleveland against the New York Giants.

Released by the Detroit Tigers last fall as hopelessly lame armed, he joined the Tribe this spring on the invitation of General Manager Hank Greenberg.

He still does not know whether he can make the grade, but he says:

"I haven't felt the slightest pain."

Newhouser and Early Wynn will each work three innings Sunday at Tucson against the Giants. It will be Wynn's first appearance of the year.

The Indians defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 7-5, yesterday as Larry Doby drove in four runs. Both Doby and Bob Kennedy got homers in Cleveland's 11-hit attack.

Portsmouth Cagers Setting Rough Pace in Tournament

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new Cinderella team—George Heller's swashbuckling Portsmouth Trojans—is the toast of the tournaments as Ohio's high school teams battle in district play on the road to the state basketball championships.

On the heels of an unbeaten football season, the Trojans caught fire after a so-so 9-9 regular basketball campaign and are ripping a swath through the Athens district talent.

Portsmouth opened by ousting Athens which sported a 15-4 record. Then came Gallipolis with a 20-1, and Portsmouth grabbed a 51-47 upset. Last night, with Greenfield McClain as the foe, the Trojans won 62-55 to hand the losers their second defeat in 23 games. Only Chillicothe (18-3) stands between Portsmouth and a regional berth at Cincinnati.

The Class A contingent of 287 was slashed to 46 last night, and the big Class B field of 781 was cut to 51. But still on hand are 7 of the top 10 in Class A and 6 in Class B as they appeared in the final Associated Press poll. Surprising Portsmouth put out 2 of the 3 Class A casualties, Gallipolis and Greenfield.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Willoughby and Chagrin Falls Orange won Cleveland sectional games last night to move into the Kent district along with Canton South, Canton McKinley, East Palestine, Struthers, Niles, Cuyahoga Falls, Akron Central, Kent Roosevelt, Berea, Cleveland St. Edward and Cleveland Holy Name. The 14 clubs play Saturday and Monday for 7 berths in 2 northeastern regionals, sites of which have not been selected.

Bounty on Fox Approved Here By Sportsmen

The Marion County Fish and Game Association went on record favoring a $2 bounty on all grey foxes killed in the county at its monthly meeting this week at Eagles Hall.

The meeting was set aside as Dealer's Appreciation Night and merchants throughout the county which sold hunting and fishing permits for the Assocation were guests at the dinner. Carl Lehner introduced the dealers present.

The members adopted the resolution calling for the fox bounty as a means of encouragement for trapping the animals. County Game Protector O. H. Neimeyer told the group the grey fox was one of the most destructive forms of wildlife and also the hardest to kill during a drive since it holes up at the slightest noise. Residents of the county may obtain the $2 bounty by taking the whole grey fox body to the sheriff's office where a voucher for payment will be issued. Harold Lauer, treasurer of the Association, will then pay the hunter.

Robert Bindley reported on a white elephant sale to be held at the April meeting. He asked all members to contribute any odd sporting equipment. John Zimmerman, chairman of a building committee, gave a report on plans and the approximate cost of a proposed clubhouse. Carl Knirk gave a report concerning the course in safe gun handling now being sponsored by the group. He said initial response to the course had been enthusiastic.

Bob Quinn Dead After Long Illness

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Robert J. A. Quinn, 84, former president of the Boston Red Sox and later Braves, died early today in a Providence hospital.

Quinn had bee ailing since he suffered a stroke while vacationing in St. Petersburg, Fla., two years ago. He was hospitalized there for several weeks and then was brought to a Providence hospital.

His widow and two daughters, Mary and Margaret, live in Providence. One of his sons, the Rev. Robert J. Quinn, O. P., is a professor at Providence College, a Catholic institution.

His other son, John J. Quinn, is general manager of the Milwaukee Braves National League Baseball club, the same team the elder Quinn served as general manager before it moved to the Midwest city.

Quinn retired from active baseball about six years ago after devoting a lifetime to the game, beginning when he was a rookie player of 18 with the Lancaster, Ohio, club.

He continued, until his death, as director of the Baseball Hall of Fame, Cooperstown, N. Y., to which he was appointed in 1946.

Quinn bought the Boston Red Sox American League franchise in 1923 from Harry Frazee, the theatrical producer, with the financial help of Dr. Robert Drury, Palmer Winslow and James Schoenborn, all of Columbus, Ohio.

After Winslow's death and a series of bad financial turns, Quinn sold the Red Sox in the winter of 1932-33 to Thomas A. Yawkey, a New York millionaire.

A short while later he became general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, a post he held only until he was offered the same post with the Boston Braves, then known as the Boston Bees, during a period when the club was undergoing a reorganization.

He continued to serve as general manager until shortly after the club was purchased by three Boston contractors, Lou Perini, Joe Maney and Guido Rugo, in 1942. The club was renamed the Braves at that time.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

One of the busiest groups in Marion the last few weeks is nearing the finish of a very important project here. Headed by Norm Schnelker and including several members of the Baseball for Boys Commission, the group is moving ahead with a brand new baseball diamond at Lincoln Park.

SHORT

The new diamond has been in the planning stage for several months and was announced publicly last month. Inclement weather has held up the project but John Luginbuhl, president of the commission, says the work is progressing and the diamond will be ready long before the opening of the baseball season.

—:—

PRELIMINARY LEVELING on the field has been completed and th final leveling will be ended within the next two weeks. Following that, the diamond will be seeded. The diamond is located just north of the outfield wall at the present Lincoln Park diamond. The layout has no effects on the boundaries of the present diamond.

Commission members report the new diamond will allow for the playing of Little League and Pony League games on the same nights. Pony Leaguers will use the present diamond while the new field will be used for Little League action.

Luginbuhl adds a regulation Little League fence will be constructed around the new field. The diamond will meet all Little League specifications in size and appearance.

MEMBERS OF the commission are preparing for the approaching season and dates for team tryouts and the season opening will be announced after a meeting of the commission next week.

Incidentally the No. 1 problem confronting the commission members is lining up volunteer workers for the program.

Besselink, Kroll Hold 1-Stroke Edge in Open

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Muscular Al Besselink and chunky Ted Kroll led an eager pack of par busters into today's second round of the $10,000 Baton Rouge PGA Open Tournament.

Holding a one-stroke lead with first round 66s, the two New Yorkers will have to fight off a red-hot field that yesterday sent 31 golfers crashing through the par-72 barrier, despite a strong wind that raked the 6,411-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course.

Another 16 pros and amateurs were right on par.

A stroke off the front runners were Cary Middlecoff, tournament favorite; veteran Ed Furgol, winner of the Phoenix Open; and Mike Horna, from Rye, N. Y.

Besselink, playing out of Grossinger, N. Y., also has to contend with the uncertainty of an ailing right wrist.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Strange Things Are Happening

As Red Buttons used to say, strange things are happening NBC has unfurled its new expensive and ambitious "Home" show which breaks sharply away from traditional daytime programming. How well the women will cotton to it, only time will tell, but it sure is off to a brave start

J. CROSBY

Meanwhile, NBC is plotting a companion piece to its "Today" show, a nighttime show called appropriately "Tonight." "Today" "Home" and "Tonight" will all be underwritten by NBC's new magazine concept of selling. A sponsor simply buys an insert as you would buy an ad in a magazine, leaving the program content entirely to the network.

THE IMPORTANCE of this from the viewer's standpoint is that the network is assuming a responsibility for the direction of its programs it has never done before. Actually, the networks — all of them — are far deeper in the business of providing their own programs than they ever were in radio.

But there is a great difference between packaging and selling—as CBS has — something like 'My Friend Irma" which is straight commercial entertainment and something like "Home" which is a well thought out and thoroughly planned effort to utilize television's great potentialities rather than simply to make some money out of them.

That's one aspect of the thing. Another one. Edward R. Murrow's program "Person to Person" is racking up a rousing rating of around 32 which is pretty terrific for even a commercial show. Yet "Person to Person" is not by ordinary standards, a commercial show. It's a decidedly offbeat operation. I very much doubt whether anyone except Ed Murrow could have got it on the air in the first place.

"PERSON TO PERSON" (CBS-TV 10:30 p.m. EST Fridays), in case you've never seen it, is simply a live interview with prominent people in their own homes. It isn't gimmicked up or gagged up which is its chief charm. Yet, people are interested in prominent people and in how and where they live.

This supports a theory that I have been nurturing for some time. It seems to me that the way to succeed in this medium as a long-pull operation is to be offbeat to avoid the stereotype rather than to pursue it. It's going to be a long time before this idea will penetrate into the ruling circles but I think eventually it will be adopted not because it's a good idea but because it's a successful one.

NOT LONG AGO, I made a speech in Philadelphia and, if I may, I'd like to quote a bit of it. 'Television is losing — or has already lost — its sense of excitement. You remember when you first bought the set the feeling of wonder and suspense — the what's-going-to-happen-next feeling — that you had when you turned it on. How many still have it? A great many of my friends I notice have the distinct feeling now that they've seen television that there's no particular point in turning it on because they saw it last week — and the week before that and the year before that."

Does it have to be that way? Do you have to sell Carnation milk by putting on Burns and Allen once a week 30 weeks a year? Suppose you took a $1,000,000 advertising appropriation and blew the works on one good two-hour show like the Ford anniversary show on two networks. The Ford show had people talking about it for about six months — and what's the matter with that as an advertising dodge?

At any rate the pursuit of sameness the hewing to the formula is not necessarily the best way to avoid failure. It may even be the best way to court it. The bold and imaginative and adventurous souls who have tried something new have done mighty well so far.

Displays Planned

Scout Wali-Ga-Zhu Set At Coliseum March 28

A forest complete with wild animals and a running stream stocked with fish will be just one of the two dozen displays at the third annual boy scout Wali-ga-zhu March 28 at the coliseum.

Between 2 and 4 in the afternoon cubs, scouts and explorers of the Harding Area Council—Marion, Morrow, Crawford and Wyandot Counties — will acquaint the general public with scouting activities.

EACH SCOUT UNIT will demonstrate some area of scouting. Among the displays will be a zoo with lions and tigers, a complete explorer camp with a charcoal fire blazing in order to serve "customers" tasty tidbits such as fried chicken, a living performance of the 12 Scout laws, and a family fun display in which the audience can participate in homemade games.

Scout officials say it shapes up as a good time for the whole family and valuable experience for the boys. John Baxter, general chairman of the show, says this year's Wali-ga-zhu should be even better than previous ones.

IMPROVEMENTS this year are a little theater, better judging, and an inspiring closing ceremony. The little theater will run for two 15-minute periods, during which all the other displays will cease operating. All the acts aren't set up yet, but one of them is going to be a dixieland band.

The closing ceremony deserves to be a surprise, but it is built around "Old Glory" and a patriotic theme.

The various participating units will be competing for prizes. Judging will be on a point basis with judges Harold Carroll, LeRoy Bader and Gleen Grundtisch looking for membership participation, general appearance, scouting interest and preparation. Instead of ribbon awards this year, it was decided to give useful prizes. Winning units will be given gift certificates for Scout equipment.

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS this year are the layout with the booths around the side and the stage in the center. Each booth will be lighted and noise and confusion will be held to a minimum through the elimination of motorized model airplanes.

Though it is not the primary purpose, scout units will have an opportunity to make a little money through the sale of tickets. Tickets are 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. Part of the money will be used to finance the Wali-ga-zhu, but the remainder will go to local units. No tickets can be purchased at the coliseum; sales are entirely in advance.

The show will be made possible through the labors of volunteer workers. Master of ceremonies will be Sam Babich. John Teetor and Jim Teitelbaum are in charge of physcial arrangements. Ticket sales are being conducted by Dr. A. J. Wagner in Marion; LeRoy Bader, Mt. Gilead; Bill Steele, Bucyrus; Floyd Failor, Upper Sandusky; and Urban Lorentz, Carey. Little theater program chairman is Eugene White. William Diem is in charge of publicity and Dr. R. T. Gray will be standing by in case first aid is required.

NEW START. Mrs. Robert De Gayner, 27, is shown with her seven-pound, three-ounce boy, born March 1 at Marinette, Wis. The DeGayners lost their five children in a pre-dawn blaze that leveled their home Dec. 23. People of Marinette and near-by Menominee responded by contributing a portion of the $14,970 necessary to purchase a new home for them.

Summer Camp Registration Is Started by 'Y'

Plans are already well advanced for this summer's YMCA camping activities for Marion boys.

Registration has been closed on the first period—June 13 to 20—but four other periods in June and July are still open for interested boys from 9 through 16.

YMCA officials said today that Camp Nelson Dodd at Brinkhaven is available to 45 Marion youths. They need not be "Y" members to go.

The camp, operated by the Ohio-West Virginia YMCA Council, is located in Knox County northeast of Mt. Vernon. The wooded terrain and Mohican River offer exciting outdoor experiences for boys. The camp is well staffed and supervised, and equipped with comfortable housing and meal accommodations, swimming pool, tennis and volleyball courts, archery and rifle ranges, and craft shops.

Two 12-day and two 7-day periods remain open for registration: June 20 to July 2, July 4 to July 11, July 11 to 18 and July 18 to 30.

Though these camping trips are several months away registration is being done right now at the YMCA. Since Camp Dodd serves such a large area, Marion is able to send only a few boys to each period.

Fees for the camp vary according to the length of the period. Total cost for seven days is $21 for "Y" members and $24 for non-members. The 12-day period is $36 and $39. The initial registration fee is $8. These costs include complete housing, food, medical care and accident insurance, and participation in all activities. Such items as hobby materials, ammunition and purchases in the camp store are extra.

March Storm Hits Midwestern Area

By The Associated Press

A blustery March storm, with snow, sleet, rain and strong winds, hit wide areas from the Rockies to the Applachians today.

Dust storms swept over the southern Plains and southern Plateau regions.

The storm centered over the central Plains. Snow fell from Montana and Wyoming eastward through most of the Dakotas and into parts of Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota. Snowfalls in the Dakotas measured more than six inches. Blowing snow reduced visibility to near zero in some sections of Nebraska.

South of the snow belt, showers and thundershowers whipped across eastern Kansas eastward through Illinois and Indiana and into Ohio. Freezing rain was reported along the northern fringes of the rain belt.

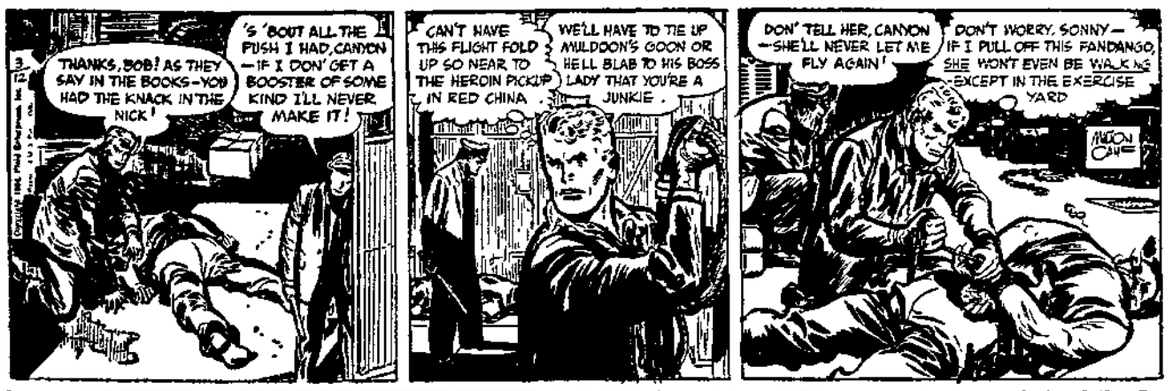
STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff



THANKS, BOB! AS THEY SAY IN THE BOOKS—YOU HAD THE KNACK IN THE NICK!
'S 'BOUT ALL THE PUSH I HAD, CANYON—IF I DON'T GET A BOOSTER OF SOME KIND I'LL NEVER MAKE IT!
CAN'T HAVE THIS FLIGHT FOLD UP SO NEAR TO THE HEROIN PICKUP IN RED CHINA.
WE'LL HAVE TO TIE UP MULDOON'S GOON OR HE'LL BLAB TO HIS BOSS LADY THAT YOU'RE A JUNKIE.
DON' TELL HER, CANYON—SHE'LL NEVER LET ME FLY AGAIN!
DON'T WORRY, SONNY—IF I PULL OFF THIS FANDANGO, SHE WON'T EVEN BE WALKING—EXCEPT IN THE EXERCISE YARD.

Did You Know

We're skeptical of these threats to boycott coffee, since, outside of the barbershop shave, we can't think of anything that ever actually priced itself out of the market.

Growing older is a process of losing heroes, and the latest loss from our personal list was when we got stuck behind a car from Minnesota, where they know how to drive on snow, spinning its wheels in a 2-inch drift

It's gratifying to note that the motorcar manufacturers, in their advanced experimental models, are finally catching up with the designs we drew during fourth-grade geography 30 years ago

In the news these days are stories of restaurant customers ordering hot water and then producing their own instant coffee to beat the price, and it's been 20 years since we ordered a bowl of hot water, reached for the ketchup and had tomato soup.

The Justice Department files a price-fixing charge against four big pencil companies, and we are surprised at this indication that people buy pencils We thought they just borrowed them.

Bible Words to Live by

I CORINTHIANS 13:13—"So faith, hope, love abide, these three; but the greatest of these is love." (RSV)

Paul's statement concerning the place of love in our relationships to our God and our fellow men is one of my favorite passages of scripture. Here is brought to bear on life the eternal bond of unity that can hold mankind together in spite of great adversities. Upon this basis can rest a fellowship that will not be split assunder by the passing ravages of hate and misunderstanding. What greater thing do we need in these days than a bond of unity and a comradeship of like minds that will carry out the injunction of Christian brotherhood. Thus there rests in this passage the ground work upon which we as a world can build so that tomorrow will become the kind of a tomorrow that we want our children to inherit.

Spring Uptrend Looked For

Signs of Quickening Business Scanned

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs of a spring quickening in business are scanned today by those hoping that the slump may be nearing an end.

Some are negative in the sense that things aren't getting bad as fast now as they formerly were like the slowdown in the drop in employment and a less than seasonal drop in retail sales.

Others are positive — like the pickup in auto sales and a spurt in demand for metals which is causing a contra-seasonal rise in their prices that may be the first herald of the end of inventory triming.

For the consumer that's both good and bad news. Wholesale food prices in general have turned a little higher, mainly under the influence of coffee and cocoa. But pork prices are lower this week. And a good shopper can feed the family with a variety of things on which prices are a little lower or at least no higher.

Commodity prices in general are holding remarkably stable—if you look only at the official reports and the various indexes. But these reflect only the list or reported prices. And in the commodity field, as at the retail store, purchasing agents can, and do, pick up bargains.

Food prices are a good example of how the reported indexes and the shopper's own experiences may differ.

One widely followed guide, the Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale food prices, this week has reached the highest figure in the last three years. But the index represents the sum of a pound each of 31 foods.

Look at the ones that advanced this week and figure how many of them you bought a pound of for the family: corn, wheat, barley, lard, sugar, cottonseed oil, tea, cocoa, prunes, steers and lambs.

Advancing prices in these items if continuing, might show up in time at your grocery store—but most housewives agree that the food prices, high as they are, don't pinch quite as badly as a year ago.

Businessmen are probably more impressed by the sudden firmness in the price of metals. Zinc, lead and quicksilver have all gone up this week. And copper prices—which those supposely in the know have been expecting to topple for nine months how—are a little firmer this week than last.

Galionite Buys Interest In Hardware Business

GALION — Orville E. Allen of the Bucyrus Road, has purchased the interest of Myron H. Shetler, also of Bucyrus Road, in the Allen and Shetler Hardware Store here. The two men bought the store from Fred Hocker on May 20, 1946. The Allen and Shetler corporation dissolved on Feb. 28. This name will be continued by Allen, his wife, and two sons, Roger and Tim, who will operate the store.

Shetler will devote his time to his store, the M and M Market at Leesville.

Allen came to Galion from Rossford where he was industrial arts teacher and football coach. Shetler served in the Navy before coming to Galion. The two men met while they were teaching at Canton South High School.

Superintendent Resigns From Alger School Post

KENTON — B. W. Cotterman, superintendent of Alger schools, tendered his resignation to the Alger School Board Monday night, Frank C. Randsdell, county superintendent of schools, announced today. He is resigning effective Aug. 1, to become superintendent of the Ottawa public schools in Putman County.

Cotterman went to Alger in Sept., 1953, and has been there since that time with the exception of a 22-month period when he was acting county schools superintendent while Mr. Randsdell was on leave of absence.

Oakland Church Plans Program on 30th Anniversary

In observance of the thirtieth anniversary of dedication, Oakland EUB Church will have on Sunday a missionary program at both morning and evening services. The speakers will include Miss L. Leona Aggola of the denomination's National Home Missionary Society, a former foreign missionary, who will be heard in the evening, and Rev. V. L. Farnham, who served in China many years. He will be present at the morning service.

Miss Aggola

Rev. C. W. Ruhlman of Columbus, a retired minister who was the first full-time pastor of Oakland Church and served at the time the church was erected and dedicated, will give greetings at the morning service and offer prayer.

After 25 years of work in China, Miss Aggola returned to serve in missions on the Mexican border and in Honduras. In China, her activities included training of national workers, teaching in girls' schools, and pastoral and evangelistic work in Shantung Province. She was interned by the Japanese and after her release returned on the repatriation ship, Gripsholm. In 1950 she visited all the stations of the N.H.M.S. Annual Conference of La Esperanza, Honduras.

BEEF BREEDERS TO MEET

MT. GILEAD — The Morrow County Beef Breeders Association will hold its annual Beef Night Saturday night at the courthouse annex. Robert Heigler of Washington Court House will be the speaker. Heigler is a breeder of beef cattle in Fayette County and will talk concerning progress made on his farm with weights for age of calves and on improving the herd size. He will also tell of a recent trip to old Mexico.

Huge beds of rock salt are known at depths of from 3,000 to 6,400 feet in eastern Ohio.

Woman's One Great Hope

for a Younger-Looking Skin

is a new, patented form of lanolin, that delivers, through penetration, the lubricants that almost every skin is thirsty for.

For centuries, lanolin has been known as the great healer. Now, since it has been made to actually penetrate human skin, it is known by millions as the great beautifier. This new, penetrating form of lanolin is a U. S. Government patent known as Lanolin Plus Liquid. Because of its penetrating action, you can expect to have a lovelier, more youthful-looking skin—softer, smoother. Dry-skin crow's-feet and premature wrinkles fade. Explanation? Simple. This penetrating form of concentrated lanolin gives back to your skin a super-abundance of cholesterols and esters that every added day of life steals from it The very next morning after your first nightly use of Lanolin Plus Liquid shows you a definite improvement. Dry-skin feeling vanishes in only 12 hours. All this for only $1 plus tax.

* If you spent $1,000, you could not get more beauty help than you get from a $1 (plus tax) bottle of Lanolin Plus Liquid.

Back to the Wobblies

The point needs no emphasizing, especially in Washington where a rumor of renewed violence by pistol politicians can lead to a riot call. There was a riot call for the U.S. Capitol on Wednesday. There will be more.

But government activity in the United States is under the deepest shadow of fear which has hovered over it since the hey-day of the International Workers of the World — the infamous "wobblies."

Assassination for the sole purpose of commanding attention was a part of their twisted credo. It is only when ax-grinding historians discuss the "wobblies" out of context that Americans fail to understand the terror they spread and the counter-violence they generated with their bombings and shootings in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Boston, and many other cities.

There have been only a few societies which have been governed by men who did not live in fear of violent death at the hands of undercivilized specimens with an uncurbed impulse to commit murder when they cannot have their own way.

The United States has been one of the privileged societies. Temporarily its governing officials are being forced to remember it has not always been so in America and still is not in many parts of the world. A handful of potential murderers spawned in Puerto Rican politics has turned back the clock to the time of the "wobblies."

The Tonic of Endeavor

It seems that never a week passes any more without a report that Prime Minister Churchill is being urged by solicitous friends to retire before he hurts himself.

Aside from the overtones of British politics which make it desirable to get Anthony Eden on the job before the 1956 election, there is an overtone of humor in the idea that Sir Winston could be hurt by staying on the job.

He has not reached the age of 79 by conserving his resources but by spending them recklessly. No public leader of this century has been more open-handed about giving himself wholly and enthusiastically to the problems and interests of his time.

If there were anything to the fears of the mentally and physically parsimonious critics of Sir Winston's robust habits, he would have run out of eyesight, mental capacity, digestion and the joy of living a generation ago.

Instead, he seems to have added to his capacities in every way except hearing; he now must use a hearing aid to hear warnings about what may happen to him if he does not soon quit gulping the tonic of endeavor. He is like those perverse octogenerians who insist they got that way with the help of their bad habits.

Undoubtedly, Sir Winston should retire so Eden — who already is 56 — can take a crack at being Prime Minister. But if he is going to save himself for his old age, he will have to take up parachute-jumping.

Pentagon Can't Do It Alone

Since the main purpose of congressional investigations is to develop information for passing laws, Congress now should get busy on the puzzle of what to do with draftees for the armed services when the draftees' loyalty is under suspicion.

A recent congressional investigation has brought to light the information that Irving Peress, a dentist, was drafted under a congressional enactment of 1950 which authorized the calling up of medical and dental specialists above the otherwise maximum age of 25.

This, of course, was a special hardship on these professional men who otherwise would have been over draft age. Consequently, the Pentagon granted them commissions so they would have a fighting chance to meet the obligations they had incurred because of their advanced age. That was how Dr. Peress became a captain when he was drafted.

He had not answered his loyalty questionnaire satisfactorily. He had chose instead, to stand on his "constitutional privilege," the phrase suggested by the Pentagon to indicate refusal to answer on the grounds of the Fifth Amendment. But this had not kept him out of the Army. Moreover, it did not keep him from being promoted automatically to the rank of major.

What it finally did do, however, was to lead to his separation from the Army by an honorable discharge when his superiors decided that a dentist with a possible Communist connection could not be trusted. The honorable discharge, incidentally, is automatic for officers not charged with any misdemeanor and who have performed satisfactory service.

Defense Secretary Wilson bears the ultimate administrative responsibility for handling the problem of what to do with people like Dr. Peress. He suggests that Congress had better pass a law defining the status of people who refuse to answer questions about their possible connections with the Communist conspiracy.

The Pentagon has been doing the best it could do in the absence of a congressional directive. This has not been good enough to satisfy its critics.

Income Tax Reforms

By David Lawrence

Congress Finally Has Bill To Correct Injustices

Fair play for the American taxpayer is in sight. For more than 40 years, since the federal income tax law was passed, the courts have at times narrowly construed the words of the tax statutes contrary to the intent of Congress. But never until this week has a bill finally been presented to Congress to correct these inequities and injustices.

The average citizen isn't familiar with the many benefits that are to come to him when the bill is passed and probably never will be till he comes squarely up against the contingencies that it is designed to meet.

The provisions of the general revision of the Internal Revenue Code cover 900 printed pages and comprise a multitude of points—everything from partnerships to estates and trusts, as well as the deductions or tax allowances permitted to corporations and individuals on a wide variety of subjects.

The Eisenhower administration and the Republican party will deserve great credit if the measure goes through both houses because, while Democratic administrations in the past have recognized the need for the revision, they have always allowed it to be dropped at the last moment in favor of legislation centering on tax rates.

MUCH CONSTRUCTIVE work has been done by the experts in the Treasury Department and by the Joint Internal Revenue Committee of Congress in past years, but time and again it has all been for naught as the measure has gotten entangled in a drive for changes in specific rates.

It became customary to postpone action till the next session, so that in the end nothing was done, though both Democrats and Republicans always said they favored it.

This time the Eisenhower administration is concentrating not on rates but on correcting mistakes and clarifying all sorts of decisions, including some that have been contradictory inside the Internal Revenue Service.

The importance of this revision of the code to businessmen and tax lawyers generally can hardly be over-estimated. It will be of tremendous value, too, to the staffs of the collectors of internal revenue, who have been obliged to follow rulings in some instances which they themselves recognized as inequitable but which they could do nothing to change, being bound by previous interpretation.

NONE OF THIS would probably be necessary if Congress could write clearly into law phrases that cover every possible contingency. Too often the Bureau of Internal Revenue, in writing "regulations" designed to carry out the meaning of the law, has made some farfetched interpretations which have been unfavorable to the taxpayer. The philosophy that the government is always right and the taxpayer is always wrong has governed too much of the bureau's thinking in the past.

Not many of the disputed points, relatively speaking, have been carried to the courts on appeal, but many that have been overruled have never been clarified so that a regulation would in itself be overturned. What the proposed law does is to take into account the court decisions and the existing code. By a set of new interpretations, the true meaning of the law now is stated.

All this may sound technical to the citizen, who naturally isn't familiar with the fine points of tax law, but it can mean hundreds of millions of dollars in benefits to the taxpayer annually — both individuals and businesses.

THERE IS INCLUDED in the same general tax bill a number of new provisions, such as correction for the inequity in double taxation of dividends, and there are also some new rules on depreciation allowances on machinery and plants.

Some of these will face a legislative fight, and there is certain to be an effort by the Democrats to tack on an increase in personal exemptions from $600 to $700. This is opposed by the administration, because it is a phony move.

It can hardly produce any substantial benefit to the economy and, compared with the opportunity to stimulate capital investment in business, such exemptions can never be as effective on the job-creating side as the depreciation allowances, for example. The adoption of many sound and constructive items will go by the boards if demagoguery prevails.

It is a curious thing that the Democratic party, which has always had a conservative wing, should be lining up on the side which would propose an unsound amendment, such as the tax-exemption plan.

THIS WOULD COST the Treasury $2,500,000,000. If the national economy could be stimulated by such a provision, it would be unobjectionable, but the obvious purpose of the proponents of the exemption scheme is to kill the relief for double taxation of dividends. The private capital system cannot function effectively unless investment is stimulated by a fair return to the investor.

When risk capital is available, employment increases far beyond anything the tax exemption plan can accomplish.

The communist and socialist philosophies are conceded to be antagonistic to the private capital system, but it is strange to note how often the Democrats in Congress take the anti-capitalistic side of the argument and how many times the Republicans appear as the staunch defenders of the system of free enterprise.

Maybe the voters some day will learn to ask candidates for Congress where they stand on such basic issues.

Five-Cent Chew

By TRUMAN TWILL

Everything in this country gets rhapsodized about except the things which are most deserving, such as chewing gum and running water. Especially chewing gum.

This is the only moderate-priced vice left. For five cents a victim of the chicle habit can indulge himself all day and have something left for the morrow, if he isn't fussy.

Gum-chewing, moreover, is the only widespread activity which is neither immoral nor unhealthful. Except in some of the stricter classrooms it isn't even held to be distracting any more.

Anyone can chew gum, and almost everyone does, to some degree.

At the bottom of the scale is the occasional chewer who will pop in a wad if urged and the flavor is acceptable.

At the top of the scale is the chewer who is relentless about this most amiable of weaknesses and chain-chews his way through all brands and flavors day in and day out until the muscles on his jaw bulge out like a blacksmith's biceps.

In between are the in and outers—the ones who can chew the stuff or let it alone—who have been known to take a chew on special occasions but who may go for a week at a time without giving their occasional weakness a tumble.

I am an indefatigable gum chewer. I became indefatigable when I quit smoking; before that I was a desultory chewer. I could take the stuff or let it alone.

It is not uncommon now for me to buy 25 cents' worth of gum at a time while at work and chomp it out of shape three sticks at a time. The household supply of chewing gum is bought a carton at a time.

There is a mound of discarded gum nearly 18 inches high at the point alongside the road on the home from work where late afternoon wads are phooeyed into the gathering gloom.

At the other end of the line there is a pile of gum wrappers visible for three quarters of a mile marking the spot where the postprandial wad is loosened up for the beginning of another day's rumination.

Sometimes on a good day when the fillings are firm and the old jaw is running in oil, so to speak, as much as a dime's worth of gum may go by the board, under the counter and out the window from dawn till dark.

There is no pleasure left to man that can be underwritten for five cents a day anymore. There still is as much chewing gum for a nickel as there used to be when a dollar would buy 20 cups of coffee.

It is, moreover, better gum than it used to be. The flavor is more flavorsome and the chicle is chewier. The packages are brighter and easier to open. Rarely does the masticated wad stick to the teeth or tend to disintegrate.

With everybody sniffing lately about everybody else, it's a pleasure for a gum chewer to acknowledge a debt of gratitude to the chewing gum people for raising their standards while stabilizing their price.

Without their enlightened policy, we gum chewers might be reduced to retreads and hot wads. Hail to the Chicle!

Target Practice

By BILL VAUGHAN

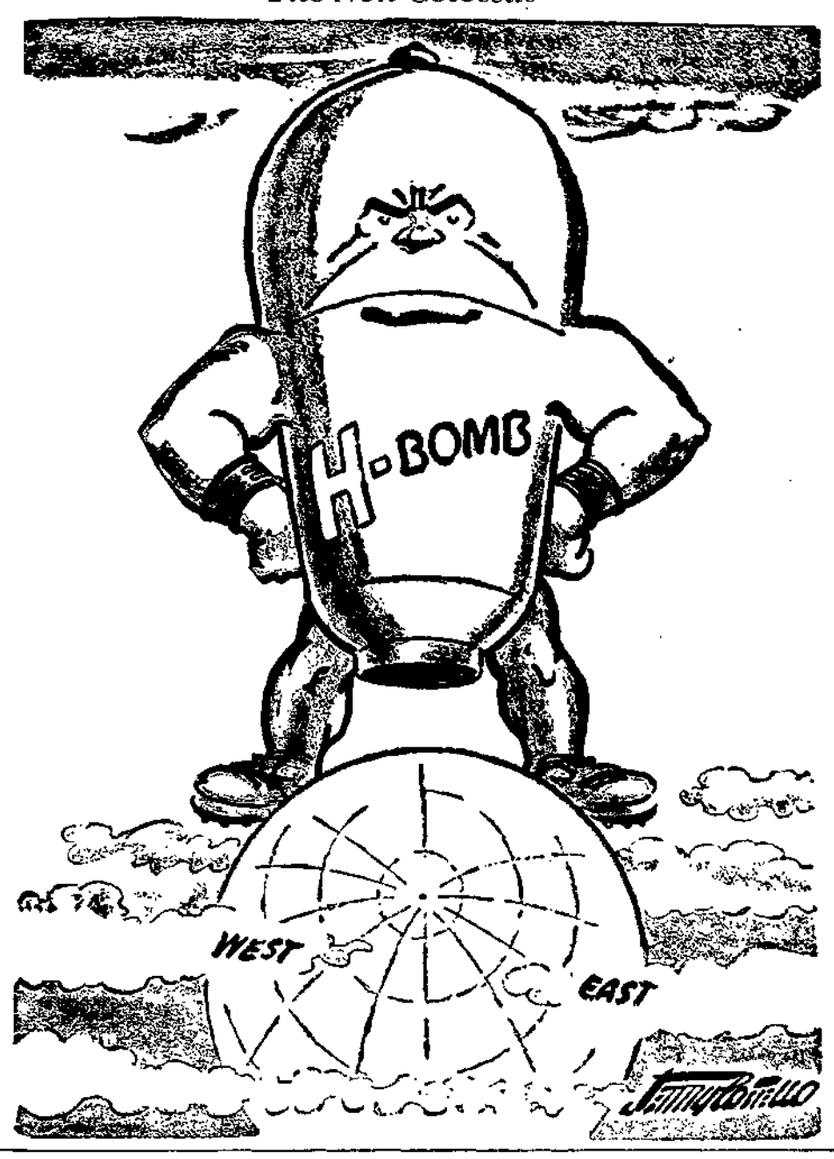
A correspondent writes that the Russian Supreme Soviet is guarded much more rigidly than our Congress. That's the trouble—the hunting sites where the shooting would be the best are always posted.

"Dangerous and breakable things should be placed out of the 2-year-old's reach," says a child expert. But if the average home includes any places a 2-year-old can't reach, the average mother can't either.

If we were planning a motor show we'd have one prominent booth completely empty, just to let the folks see what a parking place looks like.

What a crazy civilization!—hat brims get narrower as cigarettes get longer and therefore can't be smoked in the rain.

The New Colossus



Will Hays Excelled in Political Art

By Raymond Moley

The death of Will H. Hays marks the passing of an authentic genius in the ancient, fine-drawn art of politics. In the 24 years during which he occupied a position in the motion picture industry which was mistakenly called that of a "czar," no artist in that field in acting or directing ever excelled the skill he had established in his own field of politics.

Well before the movies discovered Hays, he had pulled together a broken and beaten Republican party, won a Congress, and then moved on to a gigantic majority for the President.

Hays was bred to politics as was Mozart to music. He was precinct committeeman when he cast his first vote. At 38 he was at the head of the Republican party. In the interim he held every chairmanship on the way to the top.

His rise was far from accidental. He always had the infinite capacity of seeming to be commonplace while he calculated with uncommon skill.

IN MY MANY contacts with him, for he selected me to write the history of his career in the movies, I marvelled at how he could talk at great length without seeming to say anything.

Finally I learned that generally he used language mainly not to reveal but to conceal thought.

What he was saying often had little to do with what he was thinking. I then learned to get his advice on a complex question by surprising him. I would call him on the telephone and ask point blank what I wanted to know.

His first few sentences were ripe and precious wisdom. Then he caught himself and talked generalities. He did not mean to do this. It was the prompting of instinct.

He knew Main Street so well and could sense it so perfectly because he was a member of that community himself. When he was postmaster general a deeply understanding writer, Edward Lowry, said of him:

"He is the 100 per cent American. He is as indigenous as sassafras root. He is one of us. He is folks. He is a human flivver. He takes you there and brings you back. If some alchemist in biology (if you know what I mean) could extract the essential juices from Mr. Addison Sims and all the typical Rotarians, he might produce a pale synthetic Will Hays. But there would still be qualities missing."

IT WAS THIS uncanny quality of knowing public opinion that made him so important in the movie industry. When Hays was selected, the movie people were feeling the, angry breath of Main Street on their necks.

He conceived his job to be divided into three parts. First, he must save the movies from the grim threat of many state censoring authorities.

This was to be done, he thought, by conveying to the industry a warning of the imminence of danger. He explained this part of his work by telling a story about George Eastman. When he told that great pioneer in motion-picture photography what he was doing, Eastman said: "In short, you are the cat's whiskers."

Next, after the warning, came the remedy, which was self-regulation, the only authentic answer to state regulation.

IT TOOK YEARS to get the Production Code and years more to get it enforced. But Hays had the patience required.

Finally, he got the movie men to produce better and more artistic pictures.

It is not too much to say that the fact that this industry has risen above the moral cesspool in which it spent much of its youth is due in large part to the warnings, the proddings, the exhortations, and the inspiration of Will Hays.

But the lesson he taught not only the motion picture industry but all Americans was that government is not only a benefit but a threat.

He knew that Americans must not only regulate themselves but support themselves. This is the only way to fend off the paralyzing embrace of state power.

Democrats' Dilemma

By DAVID BARNETT

The men who try to keep the home folks happy about Democratic congressmen are worried. They can't figure out a way to prevent the party from winning control of the House of Representatives and still look good.

The front line political partisans are the executive assistants and secretaries to Democratic member of the House. While the big wheels of the party were in Miami developing campaign strategy, those who man the front desks at the House Office Building were chewing their pencils over this situation:

Almost everybody willing to make a prediction — including Republicans and Democrats — agree that if the congressional elections were held to day the Democrats would pick up enough seats to get control of the 435-member House. Democratic control would make it more difficult to pin a "do-nothing" label on the Republican administration in the 1956 elections; the GOP could counter that President Eisenhower was hindered by Democratic obstructionism in the House.

An executive secretary's basic political aim is to get his congressman re-elected. But tied in with that is the problem of how to help his party get control of the executive. The day-to-day, legitimate favors a congressman does for his constituents are much easier to arrange when administrators in government agencies belong to the same political family as does the congressman.

Most of the Democratic executive secretaries feel secure about re-election in November for their particular congressmen. Almost 150 of them come from the "Solid South" or from industrial areas that are considered safe. Another 50 have decided, either because of specific local conditions or because of comfortable majorities in the 1952 elections, that they need have no fear.

Their attention therefore is directed at winning the presidency in 1956. None would say publicly that he would prefer not to welcome any new Democratic congressmen next January, because—as one put it—"That's not the way you play the game."

But privately they agreed it would be better to leave the legislative houses in Republican hands until 1956.

This reluctance-to-win, apparently, is shared somewhat by some of the Democratic party leaders. While the Republican congressional campaign committee is sending out wads of GOP aid to key districts, the Democrats are doing almost nothing to send help from headquarters in Washington to the hinterlands.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

He Asked for It

Arthur Godfrey's six-month suspension as an airman was not done so much to buzzing as to flying with his neck out. The "Redhead" stuck it out so far in his attitude, remarks and gags with referenee to control towers, airfield operations and aviation authorities that the CAB couldn't be less than tough on him. He was really grounded for letting his "jeers" get out of control, gagging at too low a level and failing to keep his sense of proportion on the beam.

Only a 30-day suspension had been asked, but the CAB made it six months in the wild blue yonder doghouse because of a conviction that buzzing airfield towers and ignoring take-off patterns constituted something that could not be brushed off to an accompaniment of ukelele music, sneers at Port Authority officials, low punches at the press, audience guffaws and assorted jokes. Too many people are flying these days cognizant of the perils of flippant operations to have it said that even the most popular man in show biz could get away with a slap on the wrist for rule busting. Arthur didn't merely buzz a Teterboro tower; he smacked straight into all critics, aviation authorities and newspapermen engaged in the legitimate search for the facts. If anybody "made a Federal case" of a matter that might have been settled with less trouble, it was Godfrey. He practically forced CAB to develop a 30-day routine into a six-month production number with music and a commercial for strict observance of flying regulations. What it theoretically said was: "We hate to do this to you, Arthur, as you have done lots for aviation and won wide esteem as a flying man, but we got into the act through your own fault and we can't brush it all off by switching to a Hawaiian number and some quartette selections."

—:—

Godfrey accepts the grounding gracefully. Life isn't too tough for him. He is many times a millionaire, his airwave audience is one of the greatest, his public popularity pretty secure and he is getting back into top shape physically after a courageous fight. (The Godfrey-Teterboro conflict is one war that has ended swiftly, anyhow. In a way it is a great help to world peace.) We wish him many more happy days in the air. And we hope he won't run up against an embarrassing moment on Talent Scouts, by asking: "Whom did you bring tonight?" and get the answer, "I'VE BROUGHT YOU A CLUB SWINGER FROM THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS CIRCUIT."

—:—

Coldest temperatures in the inhabitable world was registered in an elevator at the Waldorf-Astoria the other day when Harry Truman, in Gotham for a TV date, got into the same elevator with General MacArthur . . . Brr-r-r-r! . . . General Motors has quit India . . . It seems that Nehru demanded a car that could be driven at all times in NEUTRAL . . . This column can report from the road that audiences are falling into the aisles laughing at the new Joe Field and Jerry Chodorov comedy, "Anniversary Waltz." . . . Story is an up-to-the-minute one about what a television set can do to the American home, with a kid going on Juvenile Jury and innocently exposing secrets of parental love life . . . Kitty Carlisle and MacDonald Carey head cast, but the show title is wholly misleading and keeps away a lot of pepole who think it must be a musical with Viennese background . . . More apt title would be "Kindly Stand By." . . . Moss Hart directs it sharply and many of the lines sound like his . . . But sitting in a box watching the play he never cracks a smile . . . Harry Truman is doing so well on TV that parents now express the hope their baby will grow up and be a White House airwave attraction . . . Would you call Jackie Gleason's recent fracture a "station break?"

Don't buzz those airfield towers
And panic all their staffs!
They are not put there, Arthur,

Organized in 1919 the wedding society has as its purpose the advancement of the science and art of welding. It is the largest technical and educational organization of its kind. Its objectives are to provide up-to-date information on welding, provide a means for the interchange of ideas among members, conduct research into art of welding, encourage the development of welding and allied processes, and promote a better understanding among all who are interested in welding.

As an aid to these objectives it issues four publications, the Welding Journal, the Welding Handbook, Welding Metallurgy, and Practical Design of Welded Steel Structures.

Lenten Meditations

This is one in a series of Lenten meditations prepared by the members of the Marion County Ministerial Association for publication in The Star.

Too Good To Be True

By REV. CLYDE R. WENDELL
Pastor of Calvary EUB Church

"Come buy wine and milk without money and without price." Isa. 55:1.

One July day in Cleveland, a reporter for the Cleveland Press tried to sell five one-dollar bills for $4.50. But his offer went begging. No one, among the scores of persons he accosted on downtown streets, would buy. Instead, the reporter's efforts resulted in his own arrest for trying to pass counterfeit money. He was released, however, when an officer of a large Cleveland bank ruled that the bills were genuine. We do not know just what this reporter was trying to demonstrate—perhaps the difficulty of getting people to believe in an offer which seemed too much to the recipient's advantage to be genuine.

God has had that difficulty continually, which is part of the reason that the divine call "Come, buy wine and milk without money and without price" goes so often unheeded. If an offer is really from God, it need not be surprising that it seems "too good to be true." That is how God gives. He is not driving a close, hard bargain with us. His bestowal of salvation is a gift "exceedingly abundant above all that we ask or think." "'Tis only heaven that is given away. 'Tis only God may be had for the asking."

PRAYER: Help us, O Lord, to remember that we cannot out-give Thee either spiritually or materially." Amen.

Death Benefits Denied by Ohio Industrial Unit

BUCYRUS—The Industrial Commission of Ohio has informed Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll here that two cases in which death benefits were sought from the commission by Mrs. Martha Thomas, now living in Marion, and Mrs. Annabell Benedict, Bucyrus, have been settled.

Mrs. Thomas claimed in her petition, filed in December, 1952, that her husband was injured while working at the Crawford Steel Foundry Co. in Bucyrus in 1947 and the injury aggravated a chest disease, which caused his death in 1949. The commission had ruled that the death was not due to the injury and denied the widow any death benefits.

Mrs. Benedict, now married to C. A. Deisler, alleged that her husband, Frank, was injured in 1948 while working for the state highway department. She claimed the injury aggravated an ailment, Hodgkins disease, and that her husband was disabled from the time of the accident until his death on Aug. 27, 1950. Her claim was disallowed by the commission, which ruled that there was no proof of death due to the accident. Both cases were scheduled to be heard in Common Pleas Court here this week.

Ohio Central Is Asked for Improvements

MOUNT GILEAD — The Ohio Central Telephone Corp. this week was ordered to improve service in 30 of its 46 exchanges in 22 counties. The remaining 16 exchanges were to be inspected and improvements made if necessary.

The company operates the Caledonia, Cardington, Chesterville, Johnsville, Marengo and Mount Gilead exchanges.

Frank Quatman, assistant to the president of the Ohio Central said that the order of the commission listed the following improvements in Morrow County:

Caledonia, replacement of cable and wire where necessary; Cardington, better maintenance of central office, replacement of poles, cable and wire where necessary.

Marengo, replacement of wire, cable and central office equipment where necessary; Mount Gilead, replacement of poles and wire where necessary. It stated that the temporary switchboard at Chesterville should be replaced and Quatman said that this had been done. At New Winchester tree trimming was recommended.

Quatman said that the order, in respect to the improvements recommended by the commission is in line with improvements made in the regular running of the telephone business. He added that anytime the public sees some correction or improvement that should be made, that the company would appreciate it being called to the attention of the manager so that correction might be made.

95th Anniversary Of Marion Woman Marked at Dinner

A birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Morey of 577 E. Center St. Saturday honored the 95th anniversary of her mother, Mrs. John Hochstetter, which was March 4.

One of 13 children born to Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Hoover, she is a native of Marion County and has spent practically her entire life here. Her earlier days were spent on a farm west of New Bloomington and a railroad crossing near the homestead was known as Hoover's crossing. At the time of her birth, March 4, 1859, Marion County had a population of around 15,000 and Montgomery Township residents numbered slightly more than 1200. Several years earlier the Bellefontaine and Indiana Railroad was completed and the first train operated over it from Galion to Marion in 1852.

A lifelong member of the Methodist Church, she was active in the work of the various women's groups and for many years before failing health curtailed her activities, was engaged in the work of the WCTU. Now almost totally blind, she is confined to her bed practically all of the time. Her general health is good and she maintains a happy disposition at all times.

She and a sister, Miss Minnie Hoover, 88, who makes her home in Delaware, are the only remaining members of the family. Miss Hoover, also a former resident of Marion, was active in the work of Wesley Methodist Church and the WCTU during her residence here.

Joining Mrs. Hochstetter for the anniversary were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hochstetter, and son, Wayne, of Walbridge, and her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Herman, and sons, David and Toby of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Goyer, and sons, Timmy and Rex, her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Mosher, and son, George, Mrs. Lulu Merchant and Charles O'Dowd. She received a number of remembrances.
